New Tax Rate Fixed At $26.60 Sixty Cents Lower Than 1930

Increased Valuations And Careful Administration Of City Affairs Made Lower Rate Possible

On Wednesday the Newton Board of Assessors announced that the taxrate for this year is $26.60, a reduction of 60 cents per $10000 of valuation from last year's rate, which was $27.20. This is the lowest tax rate is particularly gratifying to Newton property owners in view of the fact that in many clties and towns in Massachustets tax rates have been considerably increased. The reduction comes as aurprise to many because of many expensively which is even the substantial respective in the substantial respective in the party care to valuation. The substantial respective in the party care to valuation of this city has increased over $5.149.000. The valuation of this city has increased over $5.149.000. This year, for the first time, the Mount Ida School for girls at Newton is pursuing the same course as the other big private schools and is being exempted from taxes on $15,000 worth of personal property and real estate assessed at $192,600. Within the past several months the old Pulsifer mansion on Islington road at Auburndale was purchased for a private school, to be known as the Langer School and the city is allowing tax exemption on this property, assessed for $24,800.

The members of Mrs. A. E. Cunningham Tent 2, D. of V., attended the meeting of Charles Ward Post 62, G. A. R., in G. A. R. Hall, Newtonville, Saturday, August 1, at 3 P. M. After the meeting of the comrades had adjourned the D. of V. served refreshments.

It was a very special event, it being the 80th birthday of Mrs. Ida I. Allen, who is Past President of Tent 2 and Past President of the Department of Massachusetts, D. of V. Mrs. Allen is one of the charter members of Tent 2.

of Tent 2.

The table was prettily decorated with flowers and birthday cake. Miss Flood, President of Tent 2, in behalf of Tent 2, presented Mrs. Allen with a gold past president's pin. Other gifts were given. Mrs. Allen responded in a very pleasing manner and a social hour followed.

Alderman Withdraws Bid For New City Hall

Alderman Howlett Takes Ethical

Alderman Albert D. Howlett of Ward I, whose firm submitted the lowest bid for painting and decorating the new City Hall and War Memorial buildings withdrew his bid, on Monday. Mr. Howlett suggested that in masmuch as he withdrew his bid, which was $1000 lower than the next bid, and that his bid had been estimated on the basis of the work being properly performed and a fair profit allowed for the job, new bids should be asked for with the probability that figures would be submitted as low as those offered by his firm, and the city thus saved $1000. The contract for the painting was awarded to the Johnson-Foster Company of Somerville, whose bid is $13.345. The bid of the A. D. Howlett's letter withdrawing the bid of his firm follows:

Dear Sir:

Allow the sid decorate and wers ago, will culminate on Monday worning, August 10, at 10,

Mr. Howlett's letter withdrawing the bid of his firm follows:

Dear Sir:

The Albert D. Howlett Co., in the course of the usual procedure, through its estimating department, submitted an estimate for the painting and decorating of the new City Hall at Newton. This estimate was the lowest submitted by over a thousand dollars.

I am an officer and a stockholder in the Albert D. Howlett Co., and believe that because of my official position, as an Alderman of the City of Newton, some question might arise as to whether or not it would be ethical to have a company in which an Alderman holds stock, do work for the city.

The question involved is entirely one of ethics, as the legal aspects of the situation were anticipated at the time I first became a member of the board. The matter was discussed with the City Solicitor of Newton and the company's procedure since then has been in accordance with his ruling.

The estimate submitted by the Albert D. Howlett Co., is binding, subject to action by you and the Mayor, I respectfully request, as an officer of the Albert D. Howlett Co., hat said company be allowed to withdraw their estimate before action is taken confirming their right to the contract.

I further beg leave to assure you that the estimating department of the Albert D. Howlett Co., has been instructed to do no further estimating for the City of Newton, during my tenure of office as an Alderman of the city, unless it be at the request of a general contractor who is a regular customer of the company.

By Albert D. Howlett.

Donnelly Regains Junior Title
Bill Donnelly of Woodland, junior golfing champion of the State in 1929 regained his title last week in the 1931 tourney at Sandy Burr. Donnelly captained the Newton High team a few years ago. Only two of his predecessors, Fred Wright and Eddie Lowery ever won the event twice. Donnelly had a chance to make it three times but was cut off last year by Wilfred Ogg of Worcester last year. Last Saturday the local youth turned back John Quinn of Chestnut Hill. 2 and 1, to regain his title.

Waltham Tops Upper Falls
Upper Falls defeated South Son in a Hub Twi-League game Friday night 9 to 3, Gumpright hitting a triple and a home run but the victory was offset Sunday when Waltham topped the locals, 6 to 1. Mullin and Dick Stumpf hit home runs for the Watch City outfit. It was Waltham's fourth straight victory, Tuesday night Upper Falls got back into the pennant fight by swamping Allston 12 to 2 with John Proctor getting a home run and Fransen two triples.

Patricia O'Leary of Pinckney street, Boston, a cabaret performer, was sentenced to three months in jail by Judge Weston in the Newton court on Monday when she was found guilty of threatening Mrs. Alice Fredey of 148 Jewett street, Newton. The O'Leary woman appealed and was held in $1000 bail. The cause of all the trouble is a Filipino named Manuel Sacro who is employed in a fraternity house on Beacon street, Boston. Sacro was one of a group of Filipinos that Mrs. Fredey and other Newton women had been interested in to uplift socially. He was also the boy friend of the O'Leary' woman, and the latter became indignant at Mrs. Fredey's interest in him and came to Newton on July 20, went to the Fredey home, and according to the testimony of Ralph Donohue of 146 Jewett street, threatened to "get" Mrs. Fredey, when she gave vent to her anger upon not finding the Newton woman at home.

Newton police had a busy night at Nonantum on Monday. Four raids were made in four houses in that district for alleged violations of the liquor laws. The houses raided were those of Andrew Dezotell, 23, of 11 Faxon street; Mrs. Stella Wellford, 37, of 30 Beech street; Arthur J. Hapenny, 27, of 5 Bridge street; John J. Landry, 44, of 8 Beech street. The raid on Dezotell's house was conducted by Serg. Burke assisted by Patrolmen Bibbo, Cummings and Dwyer. No liquor was found on the premises, but Dezotell was charged with having wallopped Daniel Arsenault the police "investigator" who produced the evidence of the alleged sale by Dezotell. The latter was in court on Tuesday and his case was continued until August 10.

Lindsay Feltmate, 21, of 41 Farrington avenue, Allston, was in the Newton court last Friday charged with driving while under the influence of liquor and with drunkenness. He was held in $400 bonds for a hearing on August 6. A man who was a passenger in Feltmate's car was charged with drunkenness. Feltmate was arrested the preceding night by Patrolmen Cody and Taffe after his automobile had collided with a Boston Elevated car at Park and Tremont streets, Newton. Feltmate's auto was badly damaged and the street car had several windows broken.

As he completed a term at the Vermont streets, Newton. Fertiliates auto was badly damaged and the street car had several windows broken.

As he completed a term at the Vermont State Prison at Windsor on July 30, Willard Brett, 23, of River Ridge road, Wellesley was arrested by Chief Hughes and Special Officer Feeley of the Newton police. Brett was arrested on a warrant issued three years ago which charged him with driving a car which was not registered or insured and with driving without a license. At that time Brett was brought into the Newton court and released on bail when his trial was continued. When he did not appear in court on the date set, a warrant was issued for him. Months afterward it was learned that Brett had gone to Vermont, arrested in that State for committing an offence and sentence to jail there. The Newton police were present to greet him when his term expired. In the Newton court last Friday Brett was given suspended fines of $135 on the charges made against him in 1928.

Mrs. Ethel Pickering, 29, of 282 Belmont street, Watertown was fined $100 by Judge Weston in the Newton court on Monday for driving while under the influence of liquor, and $10 for drunkenness. She appealed. Mrs. Pickering was arrested recently by Motorcycle Officer Goddard when her car collided on Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale with a car driven by Patrolman Joseph Kelly of the Newton police.

Cars operated by Morris Segal of 72 Revere street, Boston, and Raymond Keegan of 127 Waban street, Newton, collided Saturday morning at the intersection of Beacon and Walnut streets, Newton Highlands, Segal was going east on Beacon street and Keegan stated he was driving between 12 and 25 miles an hour, while, according to the police report, Segal was going over 25 miles an hour, Segal's car was overturned in the crash. Two occupants of Segal's car, Max Kabatznick, 35, a lawyer residing at 72 Revere street, Boston, and Mrs. Ida Segal, 55, of the same address, were taken to the Newton Hospital. The former received cuts on his head and the woman was shaken up.

Drivers of sixes are spoiled for anything less. They would no more think of giving up "six" performance than of giving up any other real advancement of motoring. For them, the whole cylinder question has been settled, once and for all.

It is not a leader they are asking for, it is a Medicine Man, a Snake Doctor, a Magician. They demand of the President that he be a miracle worker, that he stretch forth a wand and suddenly make everybody in America rich and happy while everybody in the rest of the world is poor and miserable; that he maintain the price of wheat in America at twice the figure it sells for in any other market; that he give everybody employment whether there is any that he give everybody employment whether there is anything for them to do or not.

And one month later the Mayor did appoint an expert in the matter, a man of high standing in his profession, whose knowledge of the problems here was somewhat limited. It is time for common sense to assert itself. Let us leave off demanding impossibilities of our President. Let us see him for what he is—a wise leader, giving himself without stint and with absolute patriotic devotion to the hardest tasks that confront any American. Let us cease quarreling with him because he is not omniscient and omnipotent, and follow him because he is our leader.

Letters To The Editor

Newton, August 5, 1931.
Editor, Newton Graphic:
For the past three weeks the people of Tremont street have been still further disturbed by the rattle and noise of Boston Elevated equipment. This time it is an old service car running up and down the tracks with some kind of a brush scraping the rails trying to smooth off the high places.

Sometime are the people on this store in an already overcrowded store district and that is the only benefit that would accrue. The business men in the square should be considered in a case of speculative profits versus store profits; they are an important link in the chain of service which makes Newton a better place to live in; they make possible the revenue from high taxes on store property; they must cater to a critical patronage against fierce competition of Boston and Waltham; yet Newton has never given enough business to make a real department store magnate like those in the city of Waltham.

We may be pardoned for offering the suggestion that if the city will take the land south of Boston that if the city will take the land south of Boston and Waltham; yet Newton has never given enough business to make a real department store magnate like those in the city will we may be pardoned for offering the suggestion that if the city will take the land south of Boston and Waltham; yet Newton has never given enough business to make a real department store magnate like those in the city will we may be pardoned for offering the land south of Boston and Waltham; yet Newton has never given enough business to make a real department store magnate like those in the city will we may be pardoned for offering the land south of Boston and Waltham; yet Newton has never given enough business to make a real department store magnate like those in the city will be well as the provided the provided to the provided the provided that the provided the provided to the provided the provided the provided to the provided the provided that the provided that the provided the provided Sometime ago the people on this street petitioned the Board of Aldermen for relief from the noise made by the Elevated cars. It has not been given and more noise has been added to the already unbearable disturbance. So much so, that it is impossible for a person to use a radio, or for a sick a person to get any rest. It seems that the Boston Elevated could do something to relieve the earaches and we hope the Mayor and Aldermen will kindly see that something is done besides promises.

MORE BITTEN BY DOGS

That the restraining order on dogs in Newton is not being enforced is proved by the complaints which continue to come in from persons who have been bitten by dogs. Yesterday Dr. Tully of West Newton complained that Sarah McEnany, 71, of Alden place, West Newton, and Nellie Tierney of 340 Cherry street, West Newton, had been attacked by dogs. Natalie Bartholomaie of 101 Windsorroad, Waban, complained that a dog owned by D. W. Hanscom of 236 Waban avenue had bitten her. Dr. Boutelle was notified to examine the dogs.

for parking busses, but the proposed widening on the north side of Pearl street would be contrary to the policy of the Planning Board and Board of Survey which seek to have all new street lines conform so as to meet connecting streets, and widening the south side of Pearl street would not only straighten the south line, but bring it nearer Jefferson street and make a junction at that point, at much less cost to the city. However, it is considered of so much importance in the report that it is numbered one, and it leads us to believe that the omission of that apparently important article in the Business Associates' non-expert report was the real reason the latter was discarded as "VERY UNSATISFACTORY."

ABOUT TOWN By Edw. H. Powers

As a result of the resolution passed at a recent meeting by the Newton Board of Aldermen protesting against the condition of the Boston Elevated cars used on the Newton-Brighton line and the condition of the tracks on Tremont and Park streets, Newton, General Manager Dana of the Elevated wrote a reply to City Clerk Grant stating that the cars are in excellent condition. It would seem that residents of this city must resort to aid from their Representatives and Senator in the Legislature to obtain some justice from the Elevated management. Possibly the two Elevated trustees who are Newton residents might help, if they are so inclined.

Cities and towns in advertising for Cities and towns in advertising for bids on public buildings and works reserve the right to reject any or all bids. This is a sensible and just proceeding. Sometimes all bids are so high that plans must be altered to decrease the cost of the proposed project. Sometimes the lowest bidder, or low bidders are unreliable and in experienced and it would be unfair to the taxpayers, who must pay the bills, to give a contract to such a bidder. We have had the experience in this city of contracts having been awarded to low bidders whose figures were so low that they had to pay very low wages to their employees. Also, on such jobs the huge trucks hauling material were operated so rapidly over our streets as to be menaces. When a contractor of little experience bids away under reputable contractors of much experience, it is wise to consider other phases of the situation than the lowness of a bid.

Once again it is timely to mention the fact that unless Newton workmen will be given preference in employment on the city hall and war memorial construction project, this city will be obliged to make commensurately larger appropriations for relief to unemployed next winter.

Alleged Murderer Is Caught In Hingham

Two Months Search By Newton

Wilfred Dart, 26, formerly of 8 Bacon st., Newton, was arrested shortly after midnight last Saturday morning at Hingham by Inspector King and Special Officers Feeley and Mullen of the Newton police. The arrest was made in a summer cottage in an isolated section of Hingham off Wompatuck road. Dart has been sought by the Newton police since the night of June 13 for the killing of Charles Bernard of Preising street, Jamaica Plain.

Early on the night of June 13 Bernard drove an automobile to where Patrolman Jenkins was doing traffic duty on Washington street, Newton Corner, stated that he had been shot by Dart and collapsed. Bernard died the next morning at the Newton Hospital, but gave no details of the shooting. Dart made his escape after having made the alleged fatal shooting on Pearl street, Newton, and the Newton police have since been endeavoring to apprehend him. Although told on the night of the shooting that Dart and his wife were estranged, the police have been keeping tabs on the woman and when she went to a summer cottage at the Hingham locality recently, King, Feeley and Mullen commenced to watch the place. Their vigilance was rewarded last Friday night when about 11 o'clock an automobile came to the cottage and a man alighted from it and entered the place. About an hour later the three Newton policemen rushed into the room where they heard Dart's voice and seized him. He offered no resistance. Dart had been in New York since the night of the shooting. of the shooting.

of the shooting.

Dart was arraigned in the Newton court on Saturday morning and he was held without bail for a hearing on August 18. In conversation with Chief Hughes of the Newton police Dart claimed that the shooting followed an argument he had with Bernard. Dart told the Chief that Bernard pulled a revolver on him and that in the struggle which followed the weapon was discharged and Bernard shot. Dart then jumped from the car and fled while Bernard drove towards Newton Corner until he met Patrolman Jenkins. No revolver was found in Bernard's car.

NEWTON MOUNTAIN CLIMBERS

Miss Betty Cleverdon and Miss Bar-Miss Betty Cleverdon and Miss Barbara Squier of Newton Centre and Miss Mary Waldron of Newtonville were members of a group from Camp Winnemont, at West Ossipee, N. H., who walked up Mt. Washington by the eight-mile ascent of the automobile road in the early morning, enjoying the moonlight and seeing the sunrise on the way. After a few pleasant hours on the Summit they descended by the Tuckerman Ravine trail.

Mrs. Montgomery C. Reed of Dover (formerly Gladys Hodgdon of Newton) chaperoned a party of nine from Camp Aimhi, at North Windham, Maine, who climbed Mt. Washington on Thursday (Aug. 6) through Tuckerman Ravine. Warren Bray of Newton was one of the group. They spent the night at the Summit House, going down next morning by the scenie Boott Spur Trail.

Mrs. Alfred W. Dickinson has been camp secretary for several years. Mrs. Carl L. Swan is camp store-keeper and postmistress and Mr. Swan is Director of Camp Activities.

Plasterers Strike At New Court House

After the regular meeting of the Mt. Ida Council, Royal Arcanum, at Newton Club, Newtonville, on last Monday night, a grand surprise was given to the vice regent, Ex-Mayor Edwin O. Childs, on the occasion of his 55th birthday, planned by Dr. Michel Chirurg and other members of the council. There were over a hundred to greet "New." Speakers who were called on to wish the many happy returns of the day were Dr. Fred F. Lowe, Judge Paul D. Howard, Mr. J. B. Robson, Dan Webster and George A. Ouellett.

Collation was served by Andrew Schwer, caterer, of Washington street, Newton.

The birthday cake was cut by Mr. Childs and served by him. He made a very interesting response to the speakers of the evening.

SUMMER SESSION CLOSED

The summer session of the Bryant & Stratton Commercial School which has just closed has been marked by an unusually good attendance, even better than that of last summer.

The sixty-seventh year of this popular Commercial School opens Tuesday, September 8, and Principal L. O. White reports that reservations have already been made covering practically two-thirds of the capacity of the school.

My September S, and Principal L. O. White reports that reservations have already been made covering practically two-thirds of the capacity of the school.

This school stands unique among commercial schools in that year after year there is a full enrollment and often a waiting list, without the necessity of resorting to the employment of agents or solicitors; the good-will recommendations of the thousands of successful graduates resulting in a constant influx of new students.

River Boulevard Work To Start

At Watertown

The long promised extension of the boulevard along the south shore of the Charles River from the foot of Jefferson street, Newton, towards the Galen street bridge at Watertown will soon be under way. Yesterday afternoon bids were opened for this work by the Metropolitan District Commission. The new section of the boulevard will run behind the buildings occupied by the plant of the Bachrach photograph company, the old plant of the Newton & Watertown yards of the Boston Elevated. It will emerge at the Galen street bridge at Watertown and eventually it is planned to continue the boulevard along the shore of the Charles River paralleling California street to a point slightly east of Bridge street at Nonantum. The boulevard will follow California street to a point slightly west of Bridge street and then will follow the river shore again towards Albemarle road. Just how long in the future the construction of this section will be deferred depends on recommendations of the Metropolitan District Commission and disposition of the Legislature to appropriate money for this work.

STABILIZING REAL ESTATE

A plea for the stabilization of the real estate business in Newton by the adoption of a one-price system covering all new houses was made by Arnold Hartmann, guest speaker at the regular weekly noon-day luncheon of the Newton Board of the Boston Real Estate Exchange held at the Vernon Court Hotel.

Mr. Hartmann, who is trustee of the Oak Hill Village Trust, recommended that prices of new houses be standardized, and that brokers should be given collectively the exclusive sale of all sub-divisions of land and houses by builders and developers.

"In return for the exclusive selling privilege, brokers should concentrate their efforts on such properties, and builders should agree not to sell directly to the public," declared Mr. Hartmann.

"Brokers should educate the public as to real estate values and should quote a price for new houses that would include, in addition to the cost of the land and the cost of construction, a fair profit to the developer and the regular full commission for the broker. Properties priced in this way, should be easy to sell to the public, and will be sold readily just as soon as the public begins to realize that it cannot buy real estate over the bargan at the Woodland Golf Club, with President Frank L. P.C. desex & Boston busses would use $50 pearl street as their terminus. With ample space available on the south $750 side of Pearl street, provided by Mr. Moore's plan to take all the properties on Pearl court, as well as the five other properties along Bacon and $405 pearl streets, it is difficult to undersection and take the Opera House property. It would be much more feasible, not to mention economical, as well as practical from a traffic standpoint, to take part of the one-story business block numbered 283-285 Centre street and have the widening on one side of the street, and if necessary, use part of the large area for busses. According to Mr. Moore's plan this one-story to make a blind corner and loom up as an eyesore. Mr. Madden in his criticism of the traffic report pays special attention to this phase of the report.

Another recommendation of Mr. More a new street which would start at the east end of Charlesbank road, parallel the Boston & Albany tracks, cross these tracks over a new 90,000 bridge at Saint James street, continue through privately owned land to a point opposite Park street, cross Park street diagonally, thence proceed through land now privately owned to a point opposite Eldredge street, follow Eldredge street to Franklin

It is contended that inasmuch as it is planned to resurface Washington street next year, the city should not spend a few thousands of dollars now to make temporary re-pairs. Isn't it the duty of the city to spend a few thousands of dollars to Fire hydrants at Newton Centre are shining resplendently in new coats of bright aluminum paint. This paint, however, is but a priming coat and will later be covered with a coat of yellow paint. Fire Chief Randlett and Water Commissioner Ellis have decided that fire hydraus paints yellow ed that fire hydrants painted yellow can be most easily located at night. So, the hydrants in this city will be painted yellow with black tops.

There is, and should be, a large amount of discussion over the report of Mr. Moore regarding traffic conditions in and about Nonantum Square. It is an important matter and con-clusions should not be drawn until all the facts and factors are thoroughly understood. Mr. Madden has pointed out some of the weaknesses in the Moore report and other de-fects will undoubtedly be discovered after mature consideration. Just offhand we feel that the city cannot afford to spend a half million dollars to make a few traffic changes in

In voting to enlarge the John W. Weeks school lot by over four acres, we wonder if the city fathers fully realized that in addition to the money for the purchase the city for all time to come would lose the taxes which would have been levied on private owners of this land. On that acreage, ten or twelve new houses could be erected and a substantial addition made to the valuation of the city.

A reader of the Graphic suggests that the city is entitled to damages on account of the nuisance caused by laying the five feet water mains through our principal streets. The sug-gestion is a timely one, but has little value as the state has ordered the work done and dominates the situation.

Somehow or other burning a third of the cotton crop, discontinuing the oil supply and dumping bushels of wheat on the street, strikes us as the wrong way to bring about a more prosperous condition.

After nearly fifty years of agitation starting about the time Newton became a city, actual work was started this week on a new City Hall.

of Batak Literature

Marco Polo and the emperor of China landed on the Batak coast, to avoid a storm in the Thirteenth cen-tury, and had to erect block houses to avoid being eaten by the natives. For the Bataks were and are cannibals, eating renowned individuals, not for dietetic reasons, but that his strength and wisdom may be incorporated in the banqueters. The choice cuts are the fingers, toes and the palms of the hands; and—according to a cannibal chief who confided in an explorer—the popular term among cannibals for human flesh is "long pig," as the general taste is like that

This tendency on the part of the Bataks is probably the reason why libraries are not usually furnished with Batak literature, because very few agents could be induced to look for rare works within reach of people with such ideas. Indeed, the Cleve-land public library is probably the only library in the world to possess a pustaka.-Cleveland Plain Dealer.

in Temple of Valhalla

More than a century has passed since King Ludwig I of Bavaria laid the cornerstone of Valhalla. This white marble temple in the style of white marble temple in the style of the Parthenon stands on a wooded hill above the Danube near Regens-burg. King Ludwig conceived the idea of a memorial temple to great Germans in 1807 during the Napole-onic occupation of the country, but not until 23 years later was the work begun.

The monarch himself chose the site. and also decreed that the temple should be named Valhalla, after the name of the old Germanic abode of fallen heroes. More than a hundred busts and memorial tablets in the main hall of the temple commemorate famous men and women in Germany's history, beginning with the time of the battle of the Teutoburg forest, which broke Rome's domination in Europe.

"Naturopathy"?

The term "naturopath" isn't to be found in dictionaries, so the District of Columbia commission on licensure to practice the healing arts made up its own definition. It naturally took quite a bit of study, and in Washington the practice must be confined within the definition. Here is the commission's official definition: "Naturopathy in the practice of the healing art is the use of such physical ing art is the use of such physical force as air, light, water, vibration, heat, electricity, hydrotherapy, psy-chotherapy, dietetics, or massage, but shall not include palpating, analyzing and adjusting the articulations of the spinal column, the administration of drugs and medicine, surgery or the application of X-rays or radium."-Pathfinder Magazine.

That Mouse Ear Theory

Long before phenology became a science, farmers discovered the advancement of the native vegetation in the spring furnished reliable guides to the best time for sowing and planting crops. One old-fashioned rule, probably derived from the Indians, was that corn should be planted when the leaf of the white oak was "the size of a mouse's ear." Several traditional rules of this kind are current among farmers, and one of the tasks of the phenologists is to check them up on the basis of actual statistics.

Mirror Superstition

Lillian Eichler, says in her book, "Customs of Mankind": "Since very early times the mirror has been used in divination, in attempts to read future or past. An early belief was that ture or past. An early belief was that one saw the will of the gods in a mirror. To break one accidentally, therefore, was interpreted as an effort of the gods to prevent a person from seeing into the future. This was construed as a warning that the future held unpleasant things. Among highly superstitious people the breaking of a mirror came to be looked upon as a death omen. Somehow this supers death omen. Somehow this super-stitious belief has prevailed and still exists, even among educated people." death omen. Somehow this

Valuable Invention

The autogiro was invented by Juan Cierva. In the autogiro there is a fuselage 15 feet long and an air-cooled Genet major engine of 100 horse-power. Two small wings have bent-up tips to increase the lateral stability while in the air, and the "windmill" has four blades which are set in mo-tion by air thrown up to the hori-zontal propeller by a deflector, main-tained about the horizontal stabilizer, placed at the end of the fuselage. The power thus developed gives a rotation of 130 r. p. m. to the vane, a speed which must be maintained before the plane takes off.

Evidence of the prevailing unemployment and the great number of persons in want is given by the many men in Boston who ask for a few cents to obtain some food. #### LESSON SERMON

"Soul" is the subject of the Les-n-Sermon which will be read in all on-Sermon Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 16.

The Golden Text is: "Truly my soul waiteth upon God: from him cometh my salvation" (Psalm 62:1).

Among the citations which comprise the Lorgen Sermon in the fellotter the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul; he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake" (Psalm 23:1-3).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is the law of Soul, even the law of the spirit of Truth, and Soul is never without its representatives. Man's individual being can no more die nor disappear in unconsciousness than can Soul, for both are immortal" (p. 427).

World Pays Tribute at Shrine of Bobby Burns

Many places have been "made" by the genius of a great writer. Scott has done more for the tourist agencies and the raliways of England than any of his countrymen, because his range was so wide. He discovered the Trossachs and Loch Katrine, and even made the Peak of Derbyshire world-tamous. But there are no wore half famous. But there are no more hal-lowed spots than those which dot the Burns country.

The country town of Ayr lies in the mand or castle or great mansion, that has half the attraction for the world as the little thatched biggin at Alloway where Robert Burns was born. In its visitors' book are inscribed the names of men and women famous in literature, art and statecraft, the names of peers and peasants and of kings, all come to worship at the shrine of genius.

Close by is the Auld Brig o' Doon, leaping in a single gray and graceful span the little stream whose name has gone round the world. Close by, too, is the haunted kirk, where Tam o' Shanter saw witches and warlocks holding revelry in its churchyard. In the town itself can still be seen the Auld Brig of Ayr, the theme of one of his finest poems, whilst the river Ayr is forever associated with the ode.

Trouble for Teacher "Twins," complained the young teacher; "they're more trouble! It's fun for them, but for us—"

Tun for them, but for us—"

There were Evelyn and Elinor, for instance, small twins, whose great similarity was the despair of the young kindergarten teacher. If only their mother would dress them differently or put some distinguishing mark on them! Should she ask them in the morning which was which and now on them! Should she ask them in the morning which was which and put labels on them? Or what should she do? They were adorable, blue-eyed, fair children with soft, light hair. If only the hair of one were straight and the other curly! But, no; even their ringlets were exactly allke. What should she do?

One morning they came to school and, O, joy! One had a tooth out, right in the middle of her upper jaw! The teacher ascertained that the lack-The teacher ascertained that the lacking tooth was from Ellinor's set of pearl. Now her problem was solved and when she looked at Ellinor and called her by name Ellinor, and not Evelyn, would answer. One less worry,

Windsor Chairs

Should you have a Windsor chair, writes Catherine Shellabarger in the Brooklyn Eagle Magazine, remember it was brought into vogue by King George I of England. King George, talking to one of his farmer subjects, admired the humble seat on which he sat, the back of which was made of slender spindles. He thought so much of the chair that he ordered a set made for his palace at Windsor and so established the popularity of the Windsor chair. Among famous Americans who were partial to Windsor chairs was Thomas Jefferson. On this chair, with wide arms that served as a writing desk, and which also had a double seat, he is said to have written the first draft of the Declaration of Independence.

English Poppy Fields The poppies not only bloom in Flander's fields. There is a great poppyland in England. Right beside the cold North sea, stretching for miles and miles between and about ruined and miles between and about ruined church tower and ancient manor house, encircling the villages about the Norfolk broads and near to the city of Norwich, you will find the warm colors which would make a Californian envious. It has been called the Holland of England, for it has inland seas, windmills, dykes and popples. This great poppland, like others that we know, is in the most restrui sense, the most charming sense, a garden of sleep and its silent fields and fens are beautiful.

Division of Virginia

The social conditions in western Virginia were entirely unlike those existing in the eastern portion of the state. The rugged nature of the country made slavery unprofitable, but as time were on the social, political, and economic differences between the easteconomic differences between the eastern and western parts, that were then Virginia, became more pronounced. In 70 a petition was presented to con-gress for the establishment of "West-sylvania" on the ground that the mountains made an almost impassable barrier between the west and the east.

The Civil war finally furnished the occasion for separation of West Virginia from Virginia.

"Biting" Remarks Natural in Contest Over Teeth

"Your money or your teeth!" was the demand and it happened, not in Chicago, but in a little Hungarian village. And the dentist was the hold-chicago, but in a little Hungarian village. And the dentist was the holdup man.

It seems that the patient, who had sent his false teeth to the dentist for polishing had not paid a bill which his mother had contracted several years previously. The dentist had bided his time, and now refused to return the man's teeth until he had paid his mother's dental bill.

The toothless man sued on the ground of "infamous abuse of professional ethies." The dentist nalvely countered with the statement that since he couldn't eat without money, it was only justice that the other man couldn't eat because he had no teeth.

The court made several biting remarks which neither party to the sult relished.—Washington Post. relished .- Washington Post,

New Oil Theory Held
Another myth about oil has been exploded by scientists, who now believe that heat and time, rather than pressure, are responsible for the natural formation of petroleum in the earth, experiments announced by the Amerlean Petroleum institute.

The old pressure theory thus takes

A recent survey by a leading eastern university among professors of organic chemistry indicated that stress is no longer laid by scientists on the origin of the oil from which a lubricant is made, but rather on the refining processes to which it is subjected.

water everywhere, would seem better than Utopia to More, who gave that name to his imaginary happy country.

25.000,000 automobiles, millions of bathtubs, electric light, and running water everywhere, would seem better than Utopia to More, who gave that name to his imaginary happy country.

If you ever buy real estate, and would like to store up wealth to spoil your children, buy a few mountain or high hill tops, near a great big city, taking care to select them with level or gently slanting tops, for airplane landings. Men will not live forever crowded in cities, like ants in their hills. Our cities and slume are born of transportation difficulties soon to disappear.

Self-respecting men will live on high ground, like the eagles, flying to their work, in separate specialized cities, landing on the city's roof, going down in "elevators." One city will be for finance, others for various industries, others for merchandising, wholesale and retail. Thousands of prettily colored planes, driven by women, will land on the department store and dressmakers' city. Buy mountain lands for your grandchildren, but do not select good city lots for yourself, and your widow.

Chapin Collins, editor of the Montesano Vidette, of Montesano, Wash, sends this to encourage ladies.

Years ago William Moore married a lady sixteen years older than he-People said: "Too bad; he will have to take care of her when she is old."

Mr. Moore is now $3; his wife, who celebrated her 109th birthday on July 26, is taking care of him, an invalid. She does all her housework, all the work in her vegetable and flower garden, and finds life more interesting than ever.

You wonder what the old Sultans of Turkey would have said had you told them that in their great City of Istanbul men that had flown the Atlantic Ocean and the European Continent would land to drink to the health of "Kemal Pasha, President of Turkey." That would be too much for any Sultan.

Dr. Larrimer, Government entomogiat, says grasshoppers, destroying crops, rats and ground suping the wings. There is little hope for grasshopper control this season.

This reminds you that proud mand dressed in a little brief authority, may some day find himself wiped out by a stroying crops, rats and ground supine everything in hot countries, rabiting the countries, rabiting and mosquitoes.

not have presented a more powerful lineup of pictures than those booked for Paramount theatres in the coming months.

"The new releases are so far superior to what has gone before that there can be no adequate basis of comparison. They are so strong in entertainment value, and have so far progressed over the usual run of pictures that I believe they will change the entire aspect of our business."

Manager Snider briefly commented on some of the new startling hits to be shown here in rapid succession. Four big Paramount pictures top the list. They are, "The Smiling Lieutenant," "An American Tragedy," from the famous novel by Theodore Dreiser, "Huckleberry Finn" (better than "Tom Sawyer"), and "The Magnificent Lie," a Ruth Chatterton picture that is luring thousands to Boston theatres where it is being shown. Besides these there is "Silence" with Clive Brook and Peggy Shannon, "Secrets of a Secretary" with Claudette Colbert, "Daughter of the Dragon" with Warner Oland, Ann May Wong and Sessue Hayakawa, "The Road to Reno" with nine stars, "Monkey Business" with the Four Marx Brothers, "My Sin" with Tallulah Bankhead and Frederic March, and many others. From the other companies the Paramount Theatre will receive great attractions. Fox offers "Young As You Feel" with Will Rogers, "Merely Mary Ann" with Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, "Transatlantic," "Bad Girl" and others, all with a list of stars. Warner Brothers will offer John Barrymore, Marian Marsh, William Powell, Kay Francis, George Arliss and scores of other stars in leading pictures. United Artists will give "Unholy Garden" with Ronald Colman, and "Palmy Days" with Eddie Cantor, Columbia offers "Dirigible" and many others. Such pictures as "Five Star Final" with Edward Robinson, a story which was the biggest bit on the Story w many others. Such pictures as "Five Star Final" with Edward Robinson, a story which was the biggest hit on the New York stage last season, and "The Star Witness" with Chic Sales, will come from First National along with thers of this type.

The bill for the coming week at the aramount Theatre, Newton, is fea-ured by "Daddy Long Legs" with anet Gaynor in the role of Judy Ab-lott, one of the most popular heroines he stage has produced in the drama-ization of the foreway hook and these the stage has produced in the drama-tization of the famous book and stage success. Miss Gaynor is supported by Warner Baxter in the film which runs for four days starting Sunday. On the same program is "Three Girls Lost" with Loretta Young, Joyce Compton and Joan Marsh in a story of a wise girl, a foolish girl and a sensible girl.

The last half of the week Gary ooper and Carole Lombard in "I take Cooper and Carole Lombard in "I take This Woman," and Kay Francis, Ricardo Cortez and Paul Cavanagh in "Transgression" are the co-features. The usual Bargain Matinees with reduced rates on Monday and Friday are growing to be of great interest to the shoppers of Newton.

Sneezing Laid to the Devil

Sneezing is the perfectly natural attempt of the body to expel some foreign substance from the head. When you are catching a cold, you sneeze to expel the irritating germs. But in earlier times, before this was under-stood, men were in awe of such a mysterious gust from the nostrils, and since sneezing was so often followed by illness, the devil was blamed for

School Blackboards

The office of education says that a great many primary teachers are using the script letters and a great many are using the printed letters on black-boards. The use of the printed let-ters followed the use of script, but is not considered less preferable. No scientific investigation has been made on the use of either. Some primary school teachers use both.—Washington

Means of Escape

France proposes to pass a law that every prospective bridegroom must qualify by running 400 meters in one minute, climbing a palisade seven feet high, jumping three yards and swimming 200 yards, and the old batch's answer is that if a man could do all those things, a woman wouldn't catch him in the first place .- Detroit

Novel Experience

Marybelle, taking a motor trip with her parents, went with her father into a quaint looking old hotel to investigate the accommodations prior to stopping there. She came out with her curls bobbing and her eyes dancing. "Goody, mother!" she cried, "we're going to stay here, and I'm going to sleep in a 'tunnel' bed."

Public Health Service

The United States public health service dates back to 1798, when con-gress passed an act for the relief of sick and disabled seamen. This small beginning accounts for the present location of the bureau in the Treasury department, the customs service hav-ing always been closely connected with the treasury.

Glass Print Operation

A glass print is made by covering a blackened glass with white opaque varnish and drawing the picture on it with an etching needle. An impression is then taken on a sensitized paper exposed to light through the glass. The print is in reality a kind of photo-graph, although resembling an etch-ing in effect.

Red Cross Conducts Successful

Proof of the progress and success of the Red Cross classes in swimming and life-saving work at Crystal Lake is revealed in the attendance and test

From June 29 to August 1 there ere 567 non-swimmers 166 were 567 non-swimmers, 166 in the junior life-saving group, 252 in the senior life-saving group, 73 who took the beginners' test and 142 who took the swimmers' test.

Of this number seven passed the junior tests, 11 the senior tests, 148 the beginners' tests and 60 the swimmers' tests.

Since August 1 Kimball McMullin, Paul Dolan, Daniel Houghey, Russell Riley and Charles Flagg have passed the junior tests and John Gordon the senior tests.

Examination of requirements as set forth on the test sheets is of more than ordinary interest. As is stated officially by the Red Cross, "Many drowning accidents occur because inexperienced swimmers fall or are thrown into water over their own depth and are unable to right themselves and swim to safety. This test safeguards the new swimmer against the danger of his first attempt to touch bottom and makes certain that he can level off, turn and swim a reasonable distance."

Credits are given beginners and swimmers for the following:

Jump into water over own depth, level off, swim 35 feet, make a sharp turn and return 25 feet. Any kind of swimming stroke may be used.

Tread water for 30 seconds, using et only, hands carried above the surface.

Floating motionless, with credit if the subject attempts to float in proper form and possesses too little buoyancy to remain in a floating position.
Diving, which may be straight front from springboard, running header or racing start. Must be performed in good style.

Surface dive. An object of any weight must be recovered in six to eight feet of water from a swimming start.

The junior test is correspondingly harder and the senior test, of course, the most difficult of all. In each is demonstrated the efficiency of the training under proper direction, ensuring the safety of the swimmer.

NEWTON MAN PROTESTS AGAINST COAST GUARD

Congressman A. Piatt Andrew of Gloucester has complained to Admiral Billard, commandant of the Coast Guard boats running in Massachusetts waters at night without lights. The complaint was the result of a protest received by the Congressman from Jonathan Brown 3rd of 155 Hobart road, Newton Centre, who has a summer home at the North Shore. Mr. Brown recently received a scare by a near collision with an unlighted coast-guard boat.

PLAYGROUND FIELD DAY

The annual field day of the Newton playgrounds, which was to have been held on Wednesday at the Newton Centre Playground was called off because of a request received from Dr. Bigelow of the State Department of Public Health. This request from Dr. Bigelow was one which was sent to all cities and towns in Massachusetts. In certain sections of the State there have been a number of cases of infantile paralysis. Newton has been fortunate in having had but few cases of this disease during the past year, but in deference to the request sent out generally by the State Health Department, the Playground Commissioners decided to hold field days at each playground instead of the big field day at the Newton Centre playground.

Of Telephone Co.

Clarence G. McDavitt of 212 Mill street, Newtonville, was elected a vice-president of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company on Tuesday at a meeting of the board of directors. He has been connected with that company for some years and since 1926 has been in charge of personnel work.

Mr. McDavitt is a graduate of Dartmouth with the class of 1900 and was engaged in various enterprises in or near New York until 1911. In that year he came to Boston and became associated with Edward K. Hall, then of the law firm of Powers & Hall, who was concerned with the public relations work of the telephone company. Shortly afterwards Mr. Hall entered the telephone organization as vice-president and Mr. McDavitt came with him as his assistant. Since that time the latter has been engaged with the general problems of the company's public relations under various titles.

While in college Mr. McDavitt was the first Dartmouth sprinter to run 100 yards in 10 seconds flat. This Dartmouth record, made in 1899, has been equalled but never broken. He was a member of the Dartmouth track team in 1897, 98 and 99, and manager of the 1899 football team.

ALLEGED MURDERER HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Wilfred F. Dart of 8 Bacon street

Wilfred F. Dart of 8 Bacon street, Newton, accused of murdering Charles Bernard of Priesing street, Jamaica Plain on the night of June 13, appeared in the Newton court on Tuesday before Judge Allen. Following the testimony of witnesses for the prosecution, Judge Allen held Dart for the Grand Jury without bail. James C. Cannon of Newton was counsel for Dart.

Patrolman James Jenkins of the Newton police testified that Bernard had driven an automobile up to where Jenkins was on duty at the parking space on Washington street, near Thornton street on the evening of June 13 and told the officer that he had been shot by Dart after an argument over the sale of booze. Bernard then collapsed. Jenkins also testified that Bernard also told him before he collapsed that Dart had hit him that afternoon with a blackjack.

Mrs. Lucy Bernard widow of the victim, testified that her husband had informed her on the fatal day of having been struck with a blackjack by Dart that afternoon and that when he left home that evening he said he was going to find out why Dart had hit him. Mrs. Bernard said her husband had no pistol with him. She testified, under cross-examination by Lawyer Cannon that her husband had been a prize fighter in Pennsylvania and was quick tempered.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers TRAFFIC AT NEWTON CORNER DISCUSSED

Conditions at Nonantum Square" sub-mitted by Mr. Moore recommends that the work proposed be divided over a period of four years. The part suggested for the first year's work includes the taking of properties work includes the taking of properties for the public parking space near Nonantum Square, the taking of the Opera House property and some changes in traffic signals at and near Nonantum Square. The cost of these takings, grading and street work is estimated at $140,000, according to the report.

takings, grading and street work is estimated at $140,000, according to the report.

The properties proposed to be seized on Bacon street are on the east side of the street and include the double dwelling at 14-16 Bacon street, owned by A. M. Lane; the single dwelling at 10 Bacon street, owned by T. B. Forsyth and the two-family dwelling numbered 2 Bacon street and 30 Pearl street, owned by Lillian Maher.

The old colonial house numbered 14-16 Bacon street is well over a century old. It was the homestead of Joseph Bacon, grandfather of Judge William F. Bacon and of Charles F. and Edward L. Bacon of Jewett street. It formerly stood on the opposite side of Bacon street, but was moved to its present location when Joseph Bacon erected a new home about 99 years ago. This latter house was razed a few years ago when the present Washington Building was erected between Bacon at reet. The old house on Bacon street was owned by the late Francis Murdock before it old house on Bacon street was owned by the late Francis Murdock before it was purchased by its present owner. of land on the property is assessed for $5600.

The small single dwelling at 10 Bacon street is also quite old, perhaps a century, and was for many years the home of the late Susan Duncklee, well remembered by older residents of Newton Corner. Miss Duncklee was for many years an employee of the Newton Savings Bank. This property includes 3142 square feet of land and is assessed for $3650. The two-family house at 2 Bacon street and 30 Pearl street, was erected about 30 years ago. This property contains 4924 square feet of land, and is assessed for $7100.

Properties on the south side of Pearl street, which will be seized, if Mr. Moore's suggestions are adopted, include those at, 24 Pearl street, owned by Edward Delorenzo; 18 Pearl street, owned by Edward Delorenzo; 18 Pearl street, owned by Elizabeth Rodenhiser; 8 and 10 Pearl street, owned by F. W. Taylor. The property at 24 Pearl street includes a mansard roof house built shortly after the Civil War, a barn and 8990 square feet of land. It was formerly owned by Henry Fuller and later by Webster Hayden. It is assessed for $6450. The large house at 18 Pearl street is on the site of a dwelling owned in the last century by one of the Wetherbee family. About 50 years ago the property was purchased by Charles Hutchinson, who spent considerable money enlarging the place and building a rather ornate residence. It was later purchased by the late J. R. Learned, who resided there for many years. This property has 11,160 square feet of land and is assessed for $11,500. The old dwelling at $-10 Pearl street, owned by F. W. Taylor, is one of the many houses acquired by Mr. Taylor's father, the late R. C. Taylor of Worcester, when he purchased most of the properties about Nonantum Square nearly 40 years ago and developed the present business section there.

Mr. Moore's report also recommends that the city take property on tion there.

Mr. Moore's report also recommends that the city take property on the opposite side of Pearl street; the property on which is located the Newton Opera House. The reason given for the proposed taking of this property is to allow Pearl street at its end near Centre street to be widened to 60 feet; and the reason advanced for widening Pearl street to 60 feet is because Mr. Moore recommends that the Middlesex & Boston busses use this end of Pearl street as the Newton Corner terminus.

Mr. Moore is not the first person to

RECENT DEATHS

Older residents of Newtonville will recall , the names of Mr. Herbert D. Kingsbury and Mr. Charles S. Keene. These gentlemen moved to New York in 1900 and it is a rather curious fact that both of them were about the same age, both of them were about the same age, both of them were in the tobacco business and both died within a week of each other.

Mr. Kingsbury was born in Need.

Rotarians Hear Business Talk

Told To Have Confidence In The Future of America

Carl Bigelow, president of Bigelow, Kent, Willard & Co., industrial engineers, of Boston, was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Rotary Club at the Woodland Golf Club on Monday. Mr. Bigelow, who is a resident of West Newton, gave a very impressive talk on business conditions as to "Where We Are Going and Why."

things than for necessities.

We always had an answer for everything. When sales fell off we increased our efforts through advertising and searching for new markets. In 1939 60 cents of every dollar's worth of goods produced was spent in cost of material, expenses and profits of production while 40c was spent in costs, expenses and profits of distribution. In 1929 the figures were almost reversed, we were spending conly 42c for production and 58c for distribution. Scientific management lowered production costs but increased distribution costs. Another factor was a lack of definition between markets, when the entire country was considered often as one markets, identical everywhere.

From 1896 to 1920 prices rose stead-

From 1896 to 1920 prices rose steady but since that time have fallen, although it was not generally recog-nized until 1929. Many said the old X-Y line no longer existed, that busi-X-Y line no longer existed, that business was on a new plane entirely. Now we are just as foolish the other way when we say that we cannot prosper until prices rise again. There is nothing at all to worry about if we get costs into line with prices and operate economically. We must adjust ourselves to provide adequate profits while maintaining a high wage scale. We must get our goods to the consumer at lower prices by turning our attention to distribution. Instead of doing as we used to do by determining what we could make and then starting to sell we must now determine what we can sell and then make. It is not possible to create a market. It is not possible to create a market Markets exist—we discover them and do not create them. We must learn t sell as economically as we have learned in the last thirty years to wrother.

The speaker refuted the argument that the "power age" was responsible for unemployment. He mentioned the textile industry of England in 1788 and the installation of machine with the work of the state the textile industry of England in 1788 and the installation of machinery which produced 300 times that by hand labor. Seventy-eight hundred people were thrown out of work and many riots and much hardship resulted. In 1910 there were seven million textile workers in the United States and unemployment affected but ten per cent. If machinery were responsible entirely for unemployment what would become of those now employed in automobile factories and the like. Machinery has provided work and has brought increased wages for many. A proper balance must be kept. Any return to lower wages and hand labor must of necessity mean a return to the lower scale of living of the middle ages. Many of our community projects are made possible through individual contribution by reason of higher wages.

Many people are impressed by that reason of higher wages.

Many people are impressed by that socialistic bugaboo that America is only following the normal decline of other great nations, that the present depression is the beginning of the economic dissolution of America.

Although many regard this era as the "machine age" Mr. Bigelow preferred to express it as the "power age." "Man-power," he said, "is the index of the strength of a nation," Man-power in the United States is slaves while the horse-power of automobiles in this country is equal to three billion Chinese cooles. Boys' Division

During the past week rain kept the boys indoors, but game tournaments were held and Norman Anderson proved to be the champion in Ping Pong.

A bumping board has been started in the boys' division and the leaders are as follows:—Ping Pong, Arthur Federman; Cue Rogue, James Patrick; Camelot, Robert Dunne; Checkers, George Follansbee; Chess, Jack Myers; and Pool, Harold Giggey.

Through the courtesy of the Boston Herald-Traveler, a group of boys visited their plant and were shown how a modern newspaper is printed.

During this week the Midgets Baseball Team will play the Cabot Park Juniors and the Cook Street Tigers.

Friday morning a group of members will visit the Mavis Bottling Juniors and the Cook Street Tigers. Friday morning a group of members will visit the Mavis Bottling Company plant at Cambridge. During the hot weather the boys' division game rooms have been in use constantly, and the swimming pool is crowded every afternoon and three evenings each week.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

PLAY-OFF SERIES IN TWI-LEAGUE TO BEGIN

the play-off series between the sec-and third place teams for the at to meet the first place team in Newton Twilight league for the mpionship of the city will begin tweek. The regular season comes a close tonight unless the come of the games brings about a and necessitates a play-off on Sun-tie and necessitates a play-off on Sunday.

Auburndale, which led the circuit for the early part of the season, ran against stiff opposition the past week and is almost out of the running. Dropping four straight games dropped them from second place into fourth, one game behind the Nonantum A. A. The latter has staged a spurt in recent weeks which has brought them close on the heels of the leaders. Should Nonantum win tonight it will assure itself of third place in the final standing and will meet either the Y. M. C. A. or Silver Lake A. C. in the preliminary series.

These two teams are having a close battle for leading honors. The Y. M. C. A. won all three of its games this week while Silver Lake was winning two and losing one which gave the Y the opportunity to close up the gap between them to one game. Tonight the teams meet in the closing game of the regular season. Should the Y win it will tie them for first place with Silver Lake and in such case the knot will be untied in a game on Sunday at Cabot Park. The loser of that game will be the second place team which will meet Nonantum or Auburndale in the initial series.

Recent Weddings

PAYONZECK-MISKELLA

On Wednesday evening Miss Margaret A. Miskella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Miskella of 130 Bridge street, Newton, became the bride of Otto Payonzeck of 85 Oxford avenue, Cambridge. The ceremony was performed at seven o'clock in the Church of Our Lady, Newton, by Fr. Robert M. Mantle.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mary T. Miskella and the groom by his brother, Herbert Payonzeck. The ushers were John and James Miskella, brothers of the bride and Chester T. Baxter.

The bride wore a dress of ivory satin, princess style, with a cap of orange blossoms and chantilly veil. The maid of honor wore a dress of angel blue satin and carried tea roses.

anger blue sath and carried tea roses.

A reception at the Hunnewell Club, Newton followed the ceremony at which many guests from the Newtons, Belmont, New York and Philadelphia were present. The young couple were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. John Miskella, parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Baxter, brother-in-law and sister of the groom. The hall was attractively decorated with large baskets of gladioli and garden flowers. Music was furnished by the Kehoe Orchestra.

After a wedding trip to Lake Placid Mr. and Mrs. Payonzeck will reside at 30 Crescent circle, Belmont where they will be at home after October first. UPPER FALLS REGAINS LEAD IN HUB LEAGUE

HARTSWICK-KING

The marriage of Miss Marion Howard King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard King of 2 Monmouth street, Springfield, Mass., formerly of West Newton, to Mr. Thomas Huston Hartswick of Harrisburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hartswick of Clearfield, Pennsylvania, took place on last Saturday morning, August 15, in the Church of the Transfiguration, better known as "The Little Church Around the Corner," New York City.

Until recently Miss King resided in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, where she was holding the position as Superintendent of the State Council for the Blind, State Department of Welfare. Mr. Hartswick, widely known throughout Pennsylvania, is affiliated with the Pennsylvania State Department of Banking. After a motor trip through the New England States and to West Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Hartswick will reside in Harrisburg, Penn. The bride's mother will be remembered as Alice Butterworth-King.

SHEEHAN-MAHONEY

Upper Falls regained the lead in the second half of the Hub Twi-League race this week and has a fair chance of coming through in order to defend its 1930 title in the play-off series with the first half champions, Allston. Although defeated last Sunday afternoon by the Allston team the locals came right back to nip Cambridge on Monday. Waltham on Wednesday night and South Boston last night. Upper Falls has placed five more games than the second place Tigers and four more than the third place Somerville team. The former outfit would have to win all five of these games to step out ahead or could lose one of them to tie while Somerville must win all four to tie. The critical game comes tonight between Upper Falls playground. The Newton team can shut off the colored team's bid by defeating them. Somerville meets Allston tonight on its home field and must win in order to keep in the running. Should Upper Falls lose it will make the outcome of the race an uncertainty. In Sunday's game Upper Falls enjoyed a 6 to 4 lead at the end of the seventh but Allston staged a rally to score four times and clinch the game. Upper Falls countered with a rally in the ninth but it was cut short with one run in and Allston was the victor, 8 to 7. Manager Simpson of Upper Falls protested the game on the alleged use of an ineligible player by Allston. Upper Falls pounded out fitteen hits including three baggers by Mahoney and Gumpright.

Monday night Newton reversed the procedure at Cambridge, winning 8 to 7 with a four run rally in the final inning while Cambridge countered with three runs in the last of the same frame. Walker's home run was the chief bingle in the night collected by the locals. The Upper Falls and South Roston staged a thrilling game at the Strandway Stadium with the locals ertaining their lead by winning 3 to 0. Tom Ryan, pitching for the locals, allowed but two hits while Wierners, on the mound for St. Augustine, gave up but three bingles. A three base-hit by Fransen and a home run by Johnny Proctor were the factors Miss Helen Marie Mahoney, daugh-ter of Mrs. C. A. Mahoney of 30 Rip-ley street, Newton Centre, became the bride of Joseph J. Sheehan of 33 Bowker street, Brookline, Saturday, August 15th. The ceremony was performed by Fr. Francis J. Horgan, a cousin of the bride, in the Sacred Heart Church at Newton Centre at Heart Church at Newton Centre at two o'clock.

Miss Lilian A. Mahoney, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and Mr. John P. Sheehan of Brookline, acted as best man for his brother.

After a wedding trip by motor to New York and Canada Mr. and Mrs. Sheehan will reside in Brookline where they will be at home after September 15th.

PARKING IS MAJOR NEED

With far from adequate parking facilities in Newton Corner the crying need of the business men of that section is for a municipal parking space. It will be an excellent thing if even this step is taken as the result of the recent agitation for improvements there. As far as the traffic problems are concerned we feel confident that they will solve themselves as future growth necessitates.

The propaganda that prohibition is responsible for drinking among high school pupils is challenged by Mr. Gilbert J. Raynor, principal of a High School in Brooklyn, who says that "I attended the many social functions of our pupils and never since the coming of prohibition have I seen or heard of any of our pupils toting a flask or otherwise using intoxicants on any of these occasions." Mr. Raynor is principal of a boys' high school of 3000 pupils.

The rules that require automobiles to keep to 20 miles an hour in residential districts and to reduce to 15 miles per hour at corners are more observed in the breach than in the observance. Police take notice.

It is a remarkable coincidence that Mr. Herbert Kingsbury and Mr. Charles S. Keene, who died last week, were both former residents of Newtonville and both were in the tobacco business, in different companies.

With Mr. Matt B. Jones as president and Mr. Clarence G. McDavitt as vice president, Newton is well represented in the New England Tel. N Tel. Co.

Another Log. Friday, August 14—"There goes that old bugle" were the first words heard at camp this morning as the girls were startled into waking and found that Reveille was 15 minutes late. In spite of hurrying and scurrying we were hardly ready when Mother Carey called us to attention for Colors. Just as we were about to start that ceremony there was a great yelling and shrieking and a troop of fierce pirates fell upon us. They must have crept up behind one of the cabins and waited for us to get all together before they attacked us. Someone shouted "to the theatre" and we raced there at full speed. The pirates only followed us a short way. Perhaps they went into the house to get our hot breakfast. When we arrived all breathless at the theatre we found that all the trees had blossomed out with fruit during the night. It seemed strange to pick apples, peaches and oranges from cedar and pine trees, and they were glad to find it. We didn't dare to go back to the house so soon, so wandered down to the basketball field and there, much to our surprise, we discovered nests of newly laid eggs. These we thankfully gathered and started to creep steaithily back to the cabin by way of the brook. Just as we came abreast of the canoe dock what should we see, approaching in a boat, but the fierce pirates who had attacked us mercilessly a short time before. We ducked under a the bushes and watched them breathlessly. They approached the shore and just as they were landing, our bold Cuddy ran at them with a rope, captured and bound the Captain of the band. We all followed and after a desperate fight we had them all in bonds. Soon a truce was declared in and we invited them to partake of a delicious breakfast which we found in their Treasure Chest. We built a fire on the shore, toasted bread and bacon on sticks which with marmalade and the eggs we had found, and a case of milk discovered by one of the campers in the nearby bushes, we made a very good breakafst.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

By Edw. H. Powers

Twenty-one persons were killed in automobile accidents in Massachusetts last week. Twelve of the victims were pedestrians. In the meantime the blah-blah about safe driving continues. It would be amusing rather than disgusting to observe the hypocrisy in connection with the lessening of automobile fatalities if so many human lives were not sacrificed because of the indifference of the American people to the appalling toll. All the alleged safety drives from here to Hades and back again are but gestures when speedier automobiles are being manufactured, faster driving legalized, speeders, reckless and drunken drivers allowed to escape with little or no punishment. It is only when some relative or near friend is killed that the ordinary American pays much attention to the automobile menace.

Residents of Nonantum are right when they demand that a "Stop and Go" traffic signal be installed at the intersection of Watertown and Chapel streets. A heavy stream of traffic speeds through this most congested section of the city during most of the 24 hours of each day. Hundreds of little children who cross this street are constantly jeopardized; so are grown-ups who must cross Watertown street. Many autoists operate cars at reckless speeds along Watertown street and accidents have been many.

Another grievance against which Nonantum residents are complaining is the annoyance from smoke and fumes coming from the power plant of a mill on Chapel street. Oil fuel is used at this place and because of improper combustion nauseous fumes affect the people of the neighborhood and deposits from the oily smoke gather on houses nearby. Complaints have been made to State officials and to the Newton Board of Health but the nuisance has not been abated.

Easy marks in the past generation bought "gold bricks". Today the gul-lible folks are buying "wine bricks."

bonds. Soon a truce was declared and we invited them to partake of a delicious breakfast which we found in their Treasure Chest. We built a fire on the shore, toasted bread and bacon on sticks which with marmalade and the eggs we had found, and a case of milk discovered by one of the campers in the nearby bushes, we made a very good breakfast.

Thirteen new Campers arrived at Camp Mary Day on Saturday afternoon last week, taking the places of the girls who left in the morning. Those to arrive were:

Happy Day, and Fireworks. American Ships. Why Not Montauk? Our New Dirigible.

Almost in time for his fifty-seventh Almost in time for his fifty-seventh birthday anniversary, five great nations, Germany, France, Italy, Japan and Great Britain, recently signed a document indorsing the President's "debt holiday" proposal. The announcement made the world more cheerful. Foreign bonds went up, good news for Americans that bought them. Wall Street, rapidly wiping a tear from each eye, straightened out its wrinkles and bid "Big Steel" to 90, other prices to match.

There is nothing like action, and the President "got action" when he announced his moratorium idea.

Debts are not forgiven or wiped out. The plan is to give Germany an opportunity to get her breath.

Nature, without knowing it, but most appropriately, arranges a cosmic fireworks display in honor of the good financial news tonight. Look for a magnificent display of meteors if clouds don't interfere. The display comes once a year and should be especially brilliant this year. Look at the sky in the direction of the Presides and see how many you can count of the militus height metals. Look at the sky in the direction of the Perseids and see how many you can count of the million bright meteors visible from different parts of the country. The Perseids are all that is left of Tuttle's Comet, smashed up long ago, floating in space around the sun, held by its gravitation, and bombarding planets that come close enough. These meteors rarely do harm.

Fortunately the principal bidders are the Dollar Line and Herbert Fleishhacker, on the Pacific Coast, Kermit Roosevelt, son of the late President Roosevelt, and Vincent As-President Roosevert, and Vincent Astor, Mr. Bruce of Baltimore, a brother of Secretary Mellon's son-in-law, and others on the East Coast.

Both these groups are entirely American. Rumors to the contrary notwithstanding, there is no British or other forces overships or entrel for either of the groups.

The question is, which will give the best price and guarantees. And it is hoped that consideration will be giv-en by Mr. O'Connor of the Shipping Poard and by the Administration to any representations as to plans for cheap transportation for American Congressman Britten is criticised for sending the Navy to Montauk, at the far end of Long Island, instead of sending the officers, as usual, to parade around Newport. Mentauk is more interesting than Newport, and will be a thousand times more important when it becomes the last jumping off place for airships bound for Europe and the landing place on the way back.

Officers and soldiers will learn more a' out America, and make better real estate investments going ashore at Montauk than they possibly could do at Newport.

The officers will be missed at fashionable Newport dances, but that isn't Europe notices the peaceful tone of Mussolini's recent speeches. He made enough speeches of the other kind to make Europe realize that Italy is an independent nation. Now, he reaches out a friendly hand, going to Germany to visit Chancellor Bruening.

Mussolini announces that Italy will buy German coal. Good news for Germany, bad news for Britain. Italians have not forgotten the price they paid for coal during the war, or the diffi-culty with which they were able to

On Saturday Mrs. Hoover, chistening the United States dirigible Akron, released from the airship forty-eight white pigeons, one for each State, They flew promptly to their homes, as the giant ship rose in the air, put-ting the United States ahead of all other countries in lighter-than-air craft.

Thank Heaven For One Supremacy. The new dirigible, 785 feet long, carrying 6,500,000 cubic feet of non-inflammable, non-explosive helium gas, displaces 7,400,000 cubic feet of air. Every dirigible is a submarine, immersed in the air ocean in which it operates.

The ship has a lifting capacity of 430,000 pounds, 182,000 pounds more than its own weight, and travels 84 miles an hour. Such a ship, loaded with gas and explosives, approaching silently, high up in the night, could completely wreck any city in the world and destroy every human being in it. Let us hope that this ship will serve only as a warning to other nations, and do no killing.

only as a warning to other nations and do no killing.

How would you like to plow, har-row, plant, weed and seed your ground, water and feed your mules, mend your harness, pick your cotton, haul it to market, and get Two Hundred and Ninety Dollars In Full Payment For Your Year's Work? That's what the average cotton farmer in the United States will get this year.

INDIAN SERVICE AT WEST

The Rev. Frank P. Manley, educator and executive of Nellore, India, now residing at 1301 Centre St., Newton Centre, will preach at the West Newton Community Evening Service in the Lincoln Park Baptist Church this Sunday evening on the subject, "Gandhi and India's Response to Christ." Special music will be provided by Miss Olive K. Burrison with Mr. Thorndyke Luard as guest organist. Mr. Manley is a native of Kansas and the only one of nine surviving children of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Manley to be born in the United States. His childhood was spent in southern India where he has been in misionary service for sixteen years with his brother, Charles R. Manley. The West Newton preacher for this.

misionary service for sixteen years with his brother, Charles R. Manley, M.D.

The West Newton preacher for this Sunday evening was educated in Morgan Park, Chicago University, Linfield College, Oregon, and the Newton Theological Institution, from the last of which he holds both the B.D. and the S.T.M. degrees. While in Newton Centre Mr. Manley married Miss Edith Argo of Spokane, Washington, then a student at Gordon College. They have five children, all girls, three of whom were born in India. All under fifteen years of age, these girls will return with their parents to India this September sailing from New York Sept. 11th on the S.S. Samaria. Mr. Manley expects to serve on the faculty of the Telegu Baptist Theological Seminary, Ramapatnam. South India.

During the past summer the Manleys have driven across the continent from California in a car provided by the Brookline Baptist Church. They will take it with them to the Orient. Mr. Manley, who was a classmate at Newton Seminary of the Rev. Thomas S. Roy, former pastor of the Lincoln Park Church, will bring with him this Sunday evening the Indian idol, Kanaka Durgamma, a mother goddess before which bloody sacrifices have been offered in past cengoddess before which bloody sacri-fices have been offered in past cen-turies. Among other novelties there will be presentation of Indian music.

Using Strong Language A few nights ago a spectacular fire left a warehouse a smoking ruin. Five alarms were sounded. Eleven reporters—two working and nine out to enjoy the fire—rushed to the scene. A columnist, who had no business there but loves to run after the en-gines, got his feet wet and caught

Might Be Excused for

The conflagration was the destruc-tive sequel to a minor blaze that had scorched the establishment a few hours earlier. The first fire was discovered by the owner of the building, who sent in the alarm, watched the fire-fighters apparently extinguish the flames, and then went home.

Before retiring he telephoned a contractor to call around the next morning to see about repairing a few windows, painting the doors, and otherwise touching up the place here and there.

At seven o'clock the next morning the contractor called upon the owner the contractor called upon the owner at his home and together they went downtown. Arrived where the building should have been, the contractor looked at the smoking pile of debris and then at the owner. "Just what was it you wanted me to do?" he asked, puzzled.

Because of the owner's fine Sunday-school record, we don't like to tell what he replied.—Pittsburgh Post Ga-

How Volcanic Islands Act as Safety Valves

Niuafou is one of the Tonga, or Friendly islands, situated halfway between Samoa and Fiji in one of the most restless geological areas in the world. Stretching across the South Pacific from Samoa to North Island, New Zealand, there is a huge fissure in the earth's crust. Volcanic islands, such as Niuafou, strewn along this gigantic crack, act as vents for the molten mass within the earth. The jack-in-the-box island of Falcon has popped up from the ocean's bottom at least twice, only to be washed and blown away each time by sea and wind. Only recently it has made its reappearance again in larger size, acting as one of these famous safety valves for the earth's mighty internal furnace. To passengers of steamers passing close, the island looks like any other tropic isle, green with vegetation and coconut palms. Clean white houses and thatched native churches set in grassy lawns dot the hillsides. When wind and sea are quiet, landings are made in small open boats which are guided skillfully into a nook partly sheltered by fingers of lava flow. Such sheltered by impers of lava how. Such landings are dangerous and exciting, because the boats bob up and down with the incoming rollers and scrape against the steep, jagged cliffs.—Na-tional Geographic Society Bulletin.

Obeying Instructions Farmer Smith had a supply of winter cabbage to plant.

Arriving at the farmyard, he called over one of his laborers. "George," he said, "I want you to plant these cabbages, but remember to plant them well apart."

"Ay, sir," replied George, and went about his task. The following day the farmer again went in search of George.
"Well," he said, when he found him,

"did you plant those cabbages as I told you?" "Yes, sir," was George's reply. "I planted some in your garden and some in mine. Is that far enough apart?"—London Answers.

Jewish Emblem

Just as the oak from which came the navy that made Britain mistress of the seas, became the national tree of England, so did the beautiful lofty palm, which gave oil, timber and dates to its people, become the national tree of what we like to call the Holy land, Judah Maccabaeus had it engraved on his coins as a symbol of Jewry victorious. Vespasian, the Roman em-peror under whom the Jews were finally defeated, engraved it on his coinage as a token that he had vanquished Judea. The palm tree was well understood to represent the Jew-ish people in ancient days, as, indeed, it does in a sense today.—Montreal Star.

Chivalry in 1867
"When you tread on a lady's train in the street, you are not required to apologize," observed the Providence (R. L.) Journal on July 18, 1867, "You have a right to be in the street. So has the lady; but she has no more right to carry her train with the expectation of having it respected than she has to bring her cradle to Market square and rock her baby in it. You have a right to stay on the sidewalk, and if any foollish woman chooses to lay five yards of satin between your feet and the flags, it is her risk, not yours."—Kansas City Times.

Despite Mr. Fisher's care in not erecting too costly a theatre for the exhibition of the then comparatively new type of amusement, moving pictures, a large percentage of Newton Corner residents opined at that time that this outsider who had come into their midst was quite foolish in risking such a large sum of money in the new venture. They did not believe the new moving picture theatre would pay. But it did. It paid well. It proved an excellent investment for Mr. Fisher. This amusement company. After running it for several years, Mr. Fisher sold out his interests and in 1920 the Opera House became the property of the Newton Olympia Company, composed of Drown & Ward.

In 1922 it was sold to the Koen Brothers of Salem and the following year the name of the ownership was changed to the Salem Realty Company. It was later sold to the Gordon interests who ran the theater until 1925, when lack of patronage caused it to be closed. The Paramount Theatre Company subsequently acquired the old theatre, but did not open it.

One of the number was authorized to obtain an option on the property. The option was procured, the license for the theatre was obtained and on May 21, 1921 a certificate of incorporation was granted to the Newton Theatre, Incorporated, by the Commonwealth. The incorporators included Thomas W. White, Walter T. Hannigan, Joseph E. Downey, Thomas L. Goodwin, Edward H. Power's and William H. Thomas. Stock was issued and sold, mostly to residents of this city, the building of the theatre was started and early in 1922 the Community Theatre opened for business.

The owners of the new theatre were inexperienced in the moving picture theatre business and for the first year or more the going was rather tough and no dividends were distributed to those who had invested money in the venture. But, after the first couple of years the affairs of the enterprise prospered, very appreciable dividends were distributed. Eventually an issue of common stock was made and given to the shareholders of the corporation. poration

The success of the Newton Opera House naturally caused others to seek a license for a moving picture theater at Newton Corner. Several applications were made and refused. Early in 1921 several well-known residents of this city met at Newton Corner one Sunday afternoon to discuss a matter affecting a business organization with which they were associated. After they had conferred on this matter, one of those present called to the attention of the others the excellent opportunity which existed for a well-constructed, well-conducted moving picture theatre at Newton Corner. He also revealed the fact that a parcet of real estate which would be ideal for such a theatre was for sale and could be purchased at a very low

And if the City of Newton has any money to spend, it will need plenty to meet the demands for relief to the unemployed this coming winter, not to mention the months following the coming winter, and probably even beyond that time.

The lowest bidder for building the extension of the Metropolitan roadway along the Charles River from the foot of Journal roadway along the Charles River from the foot of Jefferson street to the Galen street bridge at Watertown is Thomas Joseph McCue of Watertown. The next lowest bid was submitted by the C. & R. Company of Boston. Both these contractors are now engaged in laying the big water main between West Newton and Newton.

What is the sense of passing ordi-ances if they are not enforced? ome weeks ago the Aldermen of this some weeks ago the Adermen of this city passed an ordinance ordering all dogs in this city restrained for a period of 90 days. This ordinance was passed at the request of the State Department of Public Health because of the prevalence of rables in Massachusetts. Most dog owners in the Newtons have co-operated and have kept their dogs carefully restrained. But, a considerable number of dog owners in this city have disregarded the ordinance and have allowed their dogs to run loose. The result has been that almost daily complaints are made to the police about dogs biting persons. To date none of the owners of unrestrained dogs which have bitten persons have been brought into court. Why not?

Recently someone wrote a letter to the BOSTON HERALD stating that members of the State Constabulary are rarely seen patrolling the State highways, and that their failure to do so is largely responsible for the increase in reckless driving, speeding and the resultant automobile accidents. This contributor to the HERALD is only one of many who have made this observation. Years ago, when the State Constabulary was established in Massachusetts, one could not drive along the principal automobile highways without frequently meeting members of the State police force. But, in recent years, although the State Police are more numerous, one rarely observes any of them on the State highways.

The Book of Hours saw constant service, since it contained the prayers which were to be said each day at the seven canonical hours, from ma this through vespers to compline, and therefore, unlike many medieval books, it was made small enough to be car-ried around conveniently and to be held in the hand while it was being read. And because it was so con stantly used it seems to have become a particular treasure. Wealthy own ers spared no pains to adorn their copies with miniatures and decora tions in gold, blue and vermillon paints and with embroidered or tooled bindings—the work of famous crafts-

Following the games, dances and entertainment completed the afternoon. Jesse Kelley entertained a half hour with tricks of magic, and Al Libby, ventriloquist, amused the children greatly for a similar period. Several of the dances caught the fancy of those present. There were two dances, "Where are you going my pretty maid?" and "Old King Cole" by the little children and a Schottische by the larger girls. Mary Cronin and Amelia Murphy did a tap dance, Elvis Sampuccie a toe dance. There were also a square dance and flower dance which were very pretty to watch.

RELIEF CORPS DAY GREAT SUCCESS

The Woman's Relief Corps Day, observed at the Governor John A. Andrew Home on Wednesday was a great success both socially and financially. About one hundred and forty guests were present including Mrs. George Hines of Waltham, department president, and Mrs. Annie Poole Atwood, National instructor of the Woman's Relief Corps. Many gifts of groceries and cash donations were received. The guests were entertained during the afternoon by games and a musical program. The day was under the management of the Governor John A. Andrew Home Committee.

Attendance at the weekly lunch-eons of the Newton Board continues to mount steadily, and last week's meeting was the most largely at-tended of any luncheon held thus far in the present series.

In the present series.

Reports from the different offices indicated that many sales are being made, and the Newton brokers are looking forward to a healthy increase in the usual volume of Fall business. A discussion of the proposed law to license all real estate brokers will take place at an early date, the program committee announced.

Leon White, 44 years old, told a hard-luck story in court on Wednesday and had his case placed on file but before he left the court room results of investigation of his finger prints arrived and he was hustled back to court where he received a sentence to the state farm. Tuesday White entered the grounds of Jack Sharkey's residence on Stone avenue, Chestnut Hill, intending to ask for food. An English bulldog, owned by the famous heavyweight pugilist, evidently has a disilke for tramps and he bit the uninvited guest on the right leg. The Sharkey caretaker took White to the hospital for treatment. He was taken charge of vagrancy and Captain Richard J. Goode began investigation.

In court the next morning White told Judge Bacon that he was suffering from tuberculosis and was works ing his way to New Mexico to enter a hospital. His case was placed on file. As he was about to be freed and was being questioned by Probation Officer M. J. Enegess, Captain Goode arrived with the information that the finger prints had disclosed the fact that White had a previous record. He had served five terms on charges of burglary, larceny and forgery. He was hustled back to court and sentenced to the state farm. As he was being taken from the courtroom White enquired if there was a hospital at the farm and was told that there is. Captain Goode's investigation revealed that White, under the names of Peter Whute, Fred Smith and Bud Wallace had served jail sentences in Indiana and Oregon State Penitentiaries, Cook County Jail and Illinois State Prison. In 1919 he escaped from Cook County Jail but was returned to complete his term.

EMPLOYED FORTY-FOUR YEARS

Having reached the compulsory re tirement age of sixty-five James Keat-ing of 260 Adams street, West New-ton is about to be retired on a pen-sion. He was twenty-one years old when he entered the employ of the street department of the city and has been employed regularly in that de-partment for forty-four years.

partment for forty-four years.

Street Commissioner George E. Stuart will recommend that he be granted a pension and action on the matter is expected to be taken at the next meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Sept. 14th. Keating is now attached to the city stables on Auburndale avenue. He has been employed as a teamster. He is married and has several grown children.

There was an automobile collision on Thursday in Auburndale at the cor-ner of Bowen street and Common-wealth avenue. Five persons re-ceived minor injuries including a six year old girl whose mother was bring-just her home from treatment at the ceived minor injuries including a six year old girl whose mother was bringing her home from treatment at the finfantile paralysis clinic at the Children's Hospital. All were taken to the Newton Hospital. They were Mrs. Genevieve Greeley of West Acton, town nurse in Weston, leg fractured; Jennie D'Instantinos, 6 years old, and her mother, Mrs. Carrie D'Insantinos, with lacerations of the face and hands; Miss Rachel A. Miss Shaw was operating the other car and was said that her car skidded across the road in front of the other.

Wm. T. Halliday To Become Executive Vice-Pres. Of The Hingham Trust Co.

Well-Known Local Man Has Been Active In Banking And Civic Affairs Here Many Years

William T. Halliday for many years connected with banking interests in the City of Newton will become the executive vice-president of the Hingham Trust Company on September first. Mr. Halliday has long been active in civic affairs here and enjoys a wide circle of acquaintance. He was born in Philadelphia but was brought to Newton when three months old and with the exception of three years has resided in various sections of the Newtons.

At the age of fifteen he entered the employ of the Newton Centre Trust Company and for nearly fifteen years served through the various deyears served through the various departments. He was actively located for a material length of time at each of its offices until he resigned in 1917 as assistant treasurer to take a position as cashier of the Second National Bank of Malden. After three years there he returned to Newton and through the consolidation of the City Trust Company of Newton with the Trust Company became Treasurer of the latter concern.

A little more than two years ago Mr. Halliday left the Trust Company to become vice-president of the fast-growing Newton Mortgage Corporation. He was a director and vice-president of the Trust Company, the Dedham National Bank and the First National Bank of West Newton when he turned his activities to real estate.

the turned his activities to real estate. He has developed an extensive summer clony at Brewster, where he has a summer home. Among his many Newton interests is Newton Countryside, a small home development in the Winchester, Walnut, Dedham streets section of Newton Highlands.

He has served many worthwhile enterprises in the Newtons. As a young man he participated in various city baseball championships with various teams. As organizer of the Rotary Club of Newton he started the service club idea in this city. He has served for many years as a director of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, the Newton Chamber of the executive committee of Norumbega Council of the Boy Scouts of America, which organization he served as president during the period of change from a second class council to one of the best first class Councils of the United States, and was vice-chairman, assisting Henry J. Nichols, chairman, in forming the committee of some seven hundred and fifty workers on the Newton Hospital drive for its new building a few years ago.

He is a member of the Newton Club, Brae Burn Country Club, Albemarle Golf Club, various Masonibodies, the Shrine, Grotto, and a member of the Shrine, Grotto, and a member of the Newton Lodge of Eliks. As a member of the Newton Rotary Club he enjoys the unique distinction of having missed but one meeting in the eight years since that organization was founded.

For the past several years Mr. and Mrs. Halliday and their three children have resided on Bradford road, Newton, Highlands. He is forty-four years of age and was educated in the Newton Schools and the Northeastern in Hingham.

In the active management of the Hingham Trust Company Mr. Halliday succeeds a well-known bank man, Arthur Robinson, who has a record of forty-six years with the same institution. Mr. Robinson will continue as president and chairman of the board with Mr. Halliday assuming the active management of the bank.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

Lake next week.

The championship series will begin next Tuesday evening at Cabot Park. The second game will be played on Thursday at Victory field if the Nonantum team is Silver Lake's opponent. This is the only game that may be played at Victory field. Should the Y. M. C. A. be Silver Lake's obstacle to the championship all games will be played at Cabot Park. The third game will be played next week, Saturday, and if other games are necessary to decide the victor they will be played Sunday and Labor Day. Sunday and Labor Day.

Sunday and Labor Day.

In blanking the Y. M. C. A. and gaining the edge in the preliminary series the Nonantum team received the benefit of shut-out ball by pitcher Bob Dalton, former Newton High twirler. The Y team could get but two men to first base and but one of these to second. Joyce was on the mound for the Y and pitched good ball, allowing but six hits, but Nonantum managed to insert some of these at timely moments. at timely moments.

Allan Shaw of the Y team collected the only safety off Dalton in their fourth and he reached second a moment later. Larry Shaw, Y shortstop, got a life on Lombardi's error but was thrown out attempting to steal second. Nonantum chalked up its first counter in the third inning after first base-

PARAMOUNT THEATRE—NEWTON

Robert Montgomery is starred in "The Man In Possession" which opens at the Paramount Theatre, Newton on Sunday. He portrays the part of a British blade who impersonates a butler in the home of a dashing young widow. It is the picturization of H. M. Harwood's stage farce. In the cast with Mr. Montgomery is Charlotte Greenwood, Irene Purcell, Audrey Smith, Beryl Mercer, Reginald Owen and Alan Mowbray. On the same program will be Paul Lucas and Eleanor Boardman in "Women Love Once," from the play "Daddy's Gone a Hunting."

For the last half of the week for the Mr. Board program will be Paul Lucas and Eleanor Boardman in "Women Love Once," from the play "Daddy's Gone a Hunting."

For the last half of the week for the Mr. Ellison prepared at Phillips Andover Academy for Harvard, where he was graduated in 1927. He was active in athletics, being captain of the hosely team and a member of the Jaseball team. His clubs include the Hasty Pudding-Institute of 1770 and the Varsity, and he belongs also to the Brae Burn Country Club.

The wedding, which will be a very small affair with only the immediate families in attendance, is planned for Saturday, Sept. 5, to take place at New Castle, N. H., where Miss Lothrop and I leanor Boardman in "Women Love Once," from the play "Daddy's Gone a Hunting."

For the last half of the week, from For the last half of the week, from Thursday to Saturday, the co-feature films will be Black Camel" and "Five and Ten." The former is a mystery play in which Warner Oland plays the part of an oriental detective. He seems to have a greater following in this picture than in his past ones in which he made famous the character of Charlie Chan. Marion Davies and Leslie Howard play the leads in "Five and Ten," a Fanny Hurst story which ran serially in a national magazine recently.

The Bargain Matinees on Mondays and Fridays will continue through September with the exception of Labor Day.

High School coaching staff, was stagpink roses.

A reception followed the ceremony. After a wedding trip by automobile to Glace Bay, Nova Scotia, the young couple will reside at 16 Merit street, Leominster, where they will be at home after October first.

The bride is a graduate of the Watertown High School and the groom of Newton High School and Boston University.

High School coaching staff, was staging a battle with Falmouth and Orleans for the league lead. Since then the Harwich team has had tough sledding and has tumbled right down the ladder to fifth place. With but two weeks to play it is an almost certainty that Harwich cannot climb back to the top again but they hope to get a few notches higher in the standing.

The wedding of Miss Helen A. Bonser, daughter of Mrs. Frank W. Bonser, formerly of Newton Highlands, and Mr. Everett V. Lewis of Kemmore, New York, took place Saturday afternoon, August 22, at 4:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's uncle, Mr. Arthur E. Mason, at 56 Fisher avenue, Newton Highlands. The ceremoney was performed at four-thirty o'clock by the Rev. Ben Roberts, pastor of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church, assisted by Rev. Charles F. Hatch of Wellfleet. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle.

Precedent was established and the city ordinance requiring dogs to be restrained was equipped with teeth in court on Monday morning when Judge William F. Bacon imposed a fine of $10 on Fred Wolkins, a contractor, on a charge of allowing his dog to run at large. Motorcycle Officer Alfred W. Hammell, a neighbor, told the court that Wolkins' dog was allowed to run over his property. Wolkins pleaded guilty but asserted that on the occasion mentioned the dog had escaped from the cellar where he kept it restrained.

the occasion mentioned the dog had escaped from the cellar where he kept it restrained.

Rebecca E. Standish of 1371 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, was arraigned on a similar charge but her case was continued to Sept. 3 because of inability of her counsel to appear at that session of the court. She was also charged with driving an automobile with improper lights by Patrolman John E. Greene, a neighbor.

A charge of keeping a barking dog was preferred against Katherine E. Geyer of 1658 Centre street, Newton Highlands, by a neighbor, Paul Mullen. Illness prevented the woman's appearance in court but her daughter was permitted to plead in her behalf. The young woman told the court that the dog had been sent out of the city. Judge Bacon continued the case to October 1 indicating that the case would be placed on file at that time if the animal is not brought back by its owners.

The first charge of violation of the The first charge of violation of the year-old ordinance prohibiting turning around automobiles on Watertown St. between Hawthorn and Pearl streets was brought into court on Monday when two automobile drivers were arraigned on that charge. Harry Cohen, 28, of Templeton Parkway, was fined $5 for turning around in the restricted area. The case of Paola Amendola of 378 Langley road, Newton Centre, who was charged with a similar offense, was placed on file. Murdock S. Frazer, 47, of 846 Watertown street, Newton and Batholomew Ryan, 20, of 19 Jasset street, Newton were in court on Tuesday charged with assault and battery on Frederick C. Sugrue. some uncomplimentary remarks. The scase was continued until September fourth.

Samuel Levine, 52, of McLean street, Dorchester, learned a lot about Newton in a short time recently during his daily task of peddling vegetables. He was due to appear in court on Monday but the summons was sent to Waltham by mistake and the case put over a day. Levine voluntarily appeared on Tuesday and after hearing his story Judge Bacon placed the case on file. Not knowing where the town of Watertown ended and the city of Newton began led to his difficulty and appearance in court on a charge of peddling without a license. Patrolman John E. Greene halted Levine's team on Watertown street and asked to see his peddler's license. He produced a license issued by the Watertown authorities and was told that it was void in Newton. Levine said that since his encounter with the officer that he had obtained a Newton license. He showed the paper and the case was filed.

Eugene W. Higgins, 29, of 80 Jewett street, Newton was in court on Tuesday charged with assault and battery on a little girl whom he narrowly escaped running over with his automobile on California street, Newton, on April 21st last. Antonio Tocci, foster father of the child, Jennie Pellegrino, charged that Higgins had pushed the little girl out of the highway after the near accident. Higgins told the court that after halting the car he merely picked the child up, as she had fallen to the street, and led her to the sidewalk. The charge was filed. Higgins was unable to appear in court before this week due to a broken leg received in a later automobile accident.

to a broken leg received in a later automobile accident.

Percival A. Nicholson, 40, of 300 Centre street, Newton, was in court on Monday charged with assault and battery on his wife, Mrs. Anna J. Nicholson. Mrs. Nicholson testified before Judge Bacon that because she accosted him when he was with another woman her husband knocked her down. She stated that the woman also added a blow for good measure. She had gone to a house on Pearl street, Newton, and waited hours for her husband and the woman, knowing they were inside. When they came out about two o'clock Monday morning she said she upbraided the woman until the girl struck her twice. Her husband, she said, struck her so hard that he knocked her down to the sidewalk. Judge Bacon sentenced Nicholson to serve six months in the house of correction on a charge of assault and battery. Nicholson appealed and was held in $500 bail for the superior court.

Manuel Andre of 131 Bridge street, Newton, was given a suspended sentence of one month in the house of correction on a charge of assault and battery in court last Saturday morning. Andre was arrested Friday about midnight by Patrolmen Green and Bibbo on a warrant issued on the complaint of the parents of a seven-year-old girl. The alleged assault occurred in Andre's home where the girl was a visitor.

A truck belonging to the Silver Lake Market, 380 Watertown street, Nonantum, was reported to have been solen about 10:30 c'olock on Saturday by the owner. Later in the day the truck was returned and it developed that a friend of the owner had borrowed the vehicle without bothering to ask the owner's permission. Manuel Andre of 131 Bridge street,

PROSPECTS IN MUSICAL ART

Contrary to popular belief the almost universal habit of listening-in to Radio programs instead of resulting in that familiarity which breeds contempt . . insofar as good music is concerned . . has brought about a noticeable stimulation of the desire for individual performance. Piano manufacturers may not yet be selling more pianos than they did before the radio became so popular in the home, but people who own pianos are beginning to use them more, and young people, particularly when musically inclined, are becoming ambitious to perform. One evidence of this is seen in the increased enrollment in piano classes in the public schools.

That the majority of Americans have become music-conscious as a result of listening to such fine programs.

That the majority of Americans have become music-conscious as a result of listening to such fine programs as Dr. Damrosch's, Atwater-Kent, and others in the same class of radio entertainment, is generally accepted. It is only reasonable to conclude, therefore, that music as an avocation or a vocation is being favorably considered by more young people today than ered by more young people today than at any time in the country's history.

at any time in the country's history.

One effect of this renaissance in musical appreciation . . . if one may call it such . . . is that the ranks of musicians, music teachers, and vocal artists are filling up. And concurrently with this fact is the disturbing condition brought about by the elimination of so many orchestras and individual performers, and the concentration of a few orchestras and soloists at broadcasting centres. Of course, the "sound" pictures have contributed to this result, also. But the quality of music and critical judgment are being vastly improved as a result of radio. The public taste for good music is being educated, and well educated, notwithstanding the prevalence of cheap dance music. In the latter case its worthlessness as a legitimate expression of musical art is the account. its worthlessness as a legitimate ex-pression of musical art is the assurance of its own destruction, and grad-ually it is losing ground in favor of the music that represents the aes-thetic art which is the very essence of good music.

The young student looking to music as a means of earning a living must realize that the demands are higher today than ever before, but the opportunities also are growing. A readjustment is taking place which will offer increasing openings to good musicians, vocalists, music teachers, and supervisors of music in schools.

increasing openings to good musicans, vocalists, music teachers, and supervisors of music in schools.

It is being increasingly recognized in the educational world that Music is a subject that cannot be properly taught with academic courses in a four-year college course. It is a special subject demanding the full-time of the student if he is to succeed in accomplishing something that will provide him with practical knowledge to earn a decent living either as a performer or in the teaching field.

Long before this was generally recognized the New England Conservatory of Music provided the opportunity for a complete musical education. It was the conviction of the founder . . and it has been shared to the full by his successors . . . that the study of music was so important to America that it demanded an institution that would be representative of the highest type of instruction not only in the musical arts but in associated subjects. It was for this purpose the New England Conservatory was founded by Eben Tourjee, 64 years ago. Since then other large musical educational centres have been established largely through the munificence of wealthy patrons. But the New England Conservatory in Boston still retains leadership and it is due to such men as Eben Jordan, George W. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eva been able to maintain its standing in the world of music.

Pattison, and others punctuating the years with brilliance . . . and these all were students at the New England Conservatory. Today, the faculty includes such prominent composers as the newly appointed dean, Frederick S. Converse, and well-known musicians, and teachers like the brilliant young planist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, Sanroma; Joseph Maikin, internationally renowned 'cellist: ny Orchestra, Sanroma; Joseph Mal-kin, internationally renowned 'cellist; Wm. L. Whitney, internationally re-nowned voice authority, and others equally well-known as great musi-cians, composers, and instructors. Per-haps one feature about this famous Conservatory that stands out as a dis-tinguished characteristic, is that the Faculty is composed of men and womtinguished characteristic, is that the Faculty is composed of men and women who are selected not for their musical ability alone, but for their ability to teach. It is often the lot of the genius to be incapable of teaching others; this is why so many famous singers and musicians are poor instructors. At the New England Conservatory this fact is realized and the ability to impart knowledge and inspire pupils is the first consideration when appointing teachers.

With an entirely new channel for spire pupils is the first consideration when appointing teachers.

With an entirely new channel for musical expression created by Radio broadcasting, facilities for gaining experience in Radio Work are now provided by the New England Conservatory. This functions through the orchestra... one of the largest and best student orchestras in the country... and through advanced students of voice and solo instruments. An entirely new and interesting subject which has been added to the Conservatory this year is a course to cure students of stage fright.

Thus this old and famous music institution is meeting in a very practical way the problem of adequate training in the musical arts to enable young people to successfully practice their art and live thereby.

ROTARY CLUB The regular meeting of the Newton Rotary Club was held on Monday at the Woodland Golf Club. Mr. Charles Dasey of Newton Highlands, an expresident of the Boston Rotary Club, was introduced by Edwin O. Childs as the guest speaker. Mr. Dasey gave an interesting and impressive talk on Rotary and the development of its principles. Although it might be construed to have been founded on selfishness to a certain degree through desire for companionship and exchange of trade it opened its eyes to reach out for an unselfish ideal. Rotary dignifies the man in his profession, dignifies the trade or profession in which he is and seeks a higher degree of understanding towards international peace.

That portion of the Moore report on traffic conditions in Nonantum square which recommends the taking of the Newton Opera House property on the north side of Pearl street for parking purposes should receive the most thoughtful consideration at City Hall. As the first consideration we suggest that if Pearl street is to be widened, the proper place for that widening should be the south side of the street and not the north side. Widening the south side would bring parking nearer the square and lessen the walk of pedestrians from the square to take the Elevated cars at the proposed new stopping place. The owners of the Opera House property should not be criticized for their efforts to have the city take it, they should simply be ignored.

A wide circle of friends will sadly miss the genial personality of the late Fred A. Gay.

World Slow to Improve on First Locomotives

The first steam locomotive is credited to a Welshman, Trevethick, 1804. He and his partner, Vivian, under a patent dating 1802, ran a steam engine in south Wales, Merthyr Tidvil. The world was still far from understanding what it had. In 1812 Blenkinsop's locomotive drew 33 coal cars at the rate of something under four miles per hour, at Leeds. In 1815 George Ste-phenson built his locomotive. The railroad had at last been made a practicable possibility. It took a long time

The word "engine" is one of the most striking instances of how use may twist the meaning of an old word, and establish a new and permanent meaning, obliterating the old, "En-gine" now commonly means locomo-tive. It is from the Greek "gignere, to peget," and the Latin "ingenium. Down to the Eighteenth century it meant, in English, wit, or talent. Chaucer: "If man hath sapiences thre, memorie, engin, and intellect also.'
From this it came to mean disposition or temper: it was sometimes used in ment, and occasionally trickery, de ceit. Thence it grew to mean the product of ingenuity—hence, any con-trivance or device. So to machine, tool, etc. The original "engine" was for war or torture.

Excellent Reasons Why

Name Change Was Denied Whether or not our Israelite brethren inherited the habit of changing their names from old Father Abraham is a question. However, ever since the Lord changed Abraham's cognominal signature, they appear to have taken up with the idea and gone in for alterations. If there be any virtue in this "What's in a name?" why not give it a whirl? They whirl!

Recently, recounts the Business Veek, one Louis Goldstein who sells hings in Brooklyn, N. Y., decided that a change in name might be a con a change in mane linght be a com-mercial coup de maitre, besides being a boost to the little Goldsteins. Ac-cordingly he petitioned a judge to al-ter his name to "Golding." In time came the decision and Louis read that, aside from Goldstein being simple and easy to pronounce, numbers of Gold-steins had achieved success in commerce, industry and the professions Furthermore, he read, there were prob ably more good native-born Americans named "Goldstein" than "Golding" and that the petition was "denied." Louis sighed, glanced at the signature-and almost collapsed.

It was signed by Justice Louis Gold-stein.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Yeats Set His Hair Afire

I recall Katherine Mansfield's story about Yeats, who had dreamed his head was circled with a flaming sun. went to sleep and dreamed of a wom-an whose hair was afire, woke up, lighted a candle, and by and by disown hair ablaze. "I think it's won drous apt. It's just as far as he and his crew can get to set their hair afire—to set their lank forlorn locks a-frizzle. #### "A Man Must Live

"A Man Must Live"

The famous question and answer,
"Sir, a man must live"—"Sir, 'I do not see the necessity for it," are attributed to various celebrities. Voltaire quoted them in 1776, But they go back at least to Tertullian (150230 A. D.): "The ordinary objection is, of course, raised, 'I have not the wherewithal to live.' To this it may be somewhat sharply retorted. 'Is be somewhat sharply retorted, there any reason why you sh live?"-From "Who Said That?"

Snowden, Britain's little fighting Chancellor of the Exchequer, objects to the talk about "panic" in England. "England has not tapped her overseas

That is slightly exaggerated, for England is industrially tapping the world's greatest supply of diamonds in South Africa.

The trouble is, and hence the British tears, that as fast as England produces the gold, France gets it. It re minds you of modern golf practice fields that rent you a paiful of balls for twenty-five cents, with the slogan "You hit' em, we chase 'em."

The English chase them and the Winston Churchill does not like things said by Bernard Shaw and Lady Astor on their return from Rus-sia, and skirts close to the edge of the British libel law, telling what he

He describes Shaw, "preaching ownership of all forms of wealth by the state," and adds, "but no one squealed more shrilly than he when Lloyd George introduced the supertaxes or

Inheritance Laws Born

in Private Ownership in Private Cwnership
Among our primitive ancestors there were no such things as a will or even inheritance by a limited number of heirs, because there was nothing to inherit or to will. All property was community property. When a man died he simply ceased to use the common property "pool." and without any formalities the surviving members of the group continued to make use of it.
When private ownership of things when private ownership of things and land came to be recognized, the governing unit—village, tribe or state —found that it had to take some acthe when a man died, leaving property. If nothing were done, anyone who happened to be near or strong might seize the ownerless property, even though he were a total stranger to or even an enemy of its former owner. Tribal concepts of fair play came into operation, and it was rec-ognized that the dead man's family should have first claim to his former belongings. From this developed the customs and laws of inheritance which have taken varied, and in some cases, very complex forms, in different parts of the world .- National Geographic Society Bulletin.

Raisin Pie Only Thing New Yorker Can't Find me people, it seems, are never

The New Yorker, having been in town four months, has already been gratified by the sight of a venerable gentleman with his whiskers caught in a subway door, but he says he can't rest until he sees a passenger carry a bale of hay into a subway

He's seen almost every other conceivable package and bundle, including a dog measuring only half a head short-er than a Great Dane, carried in a blanket. Just the other day he was one of the victims buffeted about by a large and energetic woman hurrying into a shuttle train at Times square with a pair of 10-foot wooden curtain poles.

Another thing this insatiable New Yorker craves to find is raisin pie. He's tried no less than 33 eating places, from coffee pots up in the gastronomic scale of excellence, and all he gets when he asks for his favorite dessert is a negative headshake and sad smile of pity.—New York Sun.

Father of Observatory

Father of Observatory
The entire fund for the construction of Lick observatory was given by James Lick, an American philanthropist, who was born at Fredericksburg, Pa., in 1796. Formerly a piano manufacturer in Philadelphia, Buenos Aires, Valparaiso and elsewhere, he settled in California in 1847, invested in real estate and made a fortune. In 1874 he placed $3,000,000 in the hands of seven trustees to be devoted to cer-tain specified public and charitable uses. Among his principal bequests were those to the University of California for the erection of an observa-tory and procuring a telescope superior and larger than any constructed, for which $700,000 was given.

How to Better Poor Posture

Bodily poise is just as important as social poise to the really attractive woman. Poor posture will spoil the effect of the most expensive gown, but if posture is poor, it's easy to im-prove it, Kathleen Howard writes in Harper's Bazaar.

"Here is one way to do it," she writes. "Stand in front of your mirror, without your clothes, and turn sideways. You may see reflected a bad case of swayback. If you do, put one hand below your waist on your back and put the other in front, on your abdomen. Then roll the tip of your spine under and up, at the same time keeping your head well up. It really works."

Huge Herd for Candy

The production of milk which goes annually into the milk chocolate indus-try is no mean task. If the cows necessary to yield the milk could be lined up and milked in one day there would up and milked in one day there would be 4.000,000 better-than-average cows in the line. The 40 firms turning out chocolate products last year consumed 286,000,000 pounds of milk products, which at 70 pounds per cow is probably considerably above the average because of the lower yields of scrub cows which are still far too numerous in the dairy bards of the land. in the dairy herds of the land.

Victorians Weren't So Prim

primness, had much all-round extrav agance. George Meredith was as perverse and fanciful in prose as in verse; indeed, more so. Diana of the Crossways seemed to sit not so much at the crossroads as in the heart of the labyrinth; and the Egoist juggled much more deceptively than Juggled Jerry. Some of Browning's friends complained that he was cryptic, not only in prose, but in private correspondence.-G. K. Chesterton in the Illustrated London News.

Saving Her From Herself

The late David Belasco, at a time some years ago when Isadora Duncan was in hard luck, said to a New York art critic:

"Isadora, like all great artists, is "Isadora, like all great artists, is too generous. Her generosity is prodi-gal, reckless and ruinous. I think I'll dress up as a beggar and call at her apartment, and what I collect may keep her till she gets another engagement."-Springfield Union.

Purple and High Estate

Have Long Association

The word purple came into the lan-The word purple came into the integrage from the Latin purples, purple. It was used in King Alfred's time, and designated the dress of an emperor or a king. The color was obtained from a mollusk from which the purple dye was derived. Purple is a deep crim-son or scarlet color which some people, instead of allowing it to describe the color of blood that is the crimson venous blood, as distinguished from the arterial blood, which is scarlet, asso-clate as a color purple with violet. Purple originally was crimson. By the Middle ages, the term was used to indicate many shades of red, and in our own time, it designates mixtures of red and blue in various proportions approaching to crimson on one side, and violet on the other. He who is "born in the purple" is one of an im-perial or royal family, or by extension, of a noble or wealthy family. The phrase in purple, used from 1685, designates the scarlet color of the official dress of a prince of the church-a Violet, as a purplish blue color resembling that of the violet, dates from the time of Sir John de Mandeville, who is stated to have been born in the year 1300, and died in the year 1372. Literary references to the plant antedate this by about a century, for the violet is referred to in the "Tales of Arthur and Merlin."—Literary Digest.

"Wonders" Foreseen by

Great Minds Long Ago Roger Bacon, born in 1214, foresaw the coming of the balloon. He thought that it would be made of very thin metal and filled with liquid fire. It was actually more than 300 years be-fore the first balloon ascent was made, but the first man to rise into the air did so in a fire balloon did so in a fire balloon. The airship provided with a means of moving against or across the wind was anticipated in the Eighteenth century by Lunardi, who invented a bal-loon propelled by oars. Even in his day there were those who foresaw that in the future the "oars" would be worked by some kind of engine. The airplane was foreseen with remark-able accuracy by Leonardo da Vinci, who, besides being a painter, was a renowned mathematician and engineer. Wireless was foreseen at least 300 years ago. The Italian writer, Strada, born in 1572, describes an imaginary machine which enabled two friends, no matter how far apart, to communicate with one another. Strada's imag-inary process is almost exactly what happens in the most modern telewriter or automatic telegraph transmitter.

Sneezing-God Bless You

The custom of uttering a benediction after a sneeze is universal. Its origin is obscure and each country seems to have its own particular legend con-cerning it. Among the Romans the belief existed that a sneeze expelled belief existed that a sneeze expelled evil spirits. The sneeze, therefore, was regarded somewhat in the light of a lucky effort on the part of the person to rid his system of evil spirits and those present at the time would say, "Good luck to you." There is also an old legend that before the time of Jacob men sneezed only once and then expired. But the patriarch interceded in the behalf of man and obtained a relaxation of this law on obtained a relaxation of this law on condition that a prayer or benediction follow every sneeze. Some writers of-fer this old legend as an explanation of the modern sneeze benediction "God bless you."

Name Traced to Blunder The designation of a particular va-riety of worsted fabrics as "tweeds" is commonly, but erroneously, associ-ated with the Scottish river of that name. The origin of the word "tweed," however, has no reference to the River Tweed, but is said to be due to an rweed, but is said to be due to an error on the part of a London clerk, who, in the year 1826, when writing out an invoice for these goods, inadvertently wrote the word "tweeds" instead of "tweels," the Scottish for twills. Orders were placed for more "Scottish tweeds," a novel description which immediately won the popular favor and became firmly established in the clothing trade as a brand of

What, No Whittlers?

What has whittler, and why his disappearance? A half-century ago almost every man carried a good pocket knife and when he stopped on any occasion he took his knife from his pocket and began whittling. At that time many men carried in their pocket a stick or block of wood known as a whittling stick. It was some soft wood, soft pine and white walnut being favorite timber for whittling. The early set-tlers greatly enjoyed whittling for pastime, and many of them were real artists with a pocket knife. It is near a lost art.-Milan Republican.

Tribal Customs of Old and New Worlds Alike

From A. D. 45, when the Hungarians conquered and enslaved the Magyars to 862, when the Hungarians were split by enemies, the Hungarians consplit by enemies, the Hungarians consisted of 4en tribes and it was their custom to have each tribe recognize a certain animal or bird as its sacred animal, and in their own language—that is, the Ugor language—they called such animal or bird their "totem." It is surprising that Alaskan and North American Indians also call such animal or bird by the same name.

mal or bird by the same name. And it was the custom of the Hun-garians of those days to have each man wear some part of the animal or bird which his tribe recognized as its totem in his cap or headgear, in bat-tles and battle maneuvers, so that he be easily distinguishable as to which tribe he belonged. This also has a striking resemblance to the custom of the North American Indians of wearing feathers on their heads.

And the name of one of the principals of the Kuns was Akos, which in their own language meant "white cloud." The Kuns were a relative people to the Hungarians.—Exchange.

Sacred Manuscripts in Profusion in Chicago

Rare gospel manuscripts, dating back several centuries, have come to light in the Greek, Armenian and Syrian colonies of Chicago, the Chicago Association of Commerce announces. Recent discoveries of important manuscripts have revealed Chicago as a rich hunting ground comparable with age-old cities of Europe and the Near

The latest discovery, which has been purchased by the New Testament de-partment of the University of Chicago, is a Thirteenth-century manuscript of the gospels in Greek, and is regarded by experts as being one of the finest known pieces of cursive, or runninghand script, writing in any collection.

The manuscript was brought into the United States in 1916 from Jamina, the Albanian city noted for its mo-nastic library of the Greek Orthodox church. It was found in the possession of a Chicago dentist.

People in love live longer, and bet-ter, Dr. Josiah Oldfield, noted London physician, told the audience at the an-nual meeting of the Lady Margaret hospital.

And the other extreme, nagging, is "slow murder," the doctor said.

Purported assets of being in love, according to Doctor Oldfield, are Better digestion.

Glossier skin and sheener hair.

Food tastes better, "When a woman starts nagging her husband," he said, "she is committing slow murder and at the same time taking the first step toward becoming haggard, ugly and old. When a woman goes 'green with jealousy' she is straining her hepatic duct."

Mining Possibilities

"There is no known limit to the pos-sible depth of our mining." says an expert. "It is all a question of get-ting fresh air down to the men." Part of the answer to the question is furnished by the Quincy mine, the Old Reliable, which overlooks Houghton from its hill in the city of Hancock across Portage lake. The Quincy at its extreme depth is finding richer ore than it has for several years past. They call it "secondary mineraliza-tion." Copper, for all the scientists know, may extend many thousands of feet more into the center of the earth.

Four-Eyed Fish

Among the specimens recently added to the collection of a Philadelphia mu-seum is a four-eyed fish from Honduras. It was taken from the Rio Cho The existence of such a fish has been known, but specimens are exceedingly rare. It was accompanied by about 100 other fish specimens. A nine-inch moth was the leading feanine-inch moth was the leading reature of the insect collection from the same locality. The expedition was somewhat hampered in its work by the prevalence of fogs of such density as would put the London fog to shame. There were days when the explorers dared not to venture a few feet from the cave in which they nade their headquarters.

Savage Internal Warfare In 1648 the Cossacks rose against the Polish-Ukrainian lords who sought impose upon them the Roman Cath-c faith in lieu of their own Greek tholic religion. The Cossacks fought th the utmost brutality, overcoming Poles and torturing their leaders to death. Their Roman Catholic priests were hanged before the altars with a butchered hog on one side and a Jew on the other. When, after more than a year, this religious rebellion death. Their Roman Catholic re punished with equal brutality.

Wildcat Loses to Locomotive

A widget battled a locomotive near Statesboro, Ga., recently and died gal-lantly under the wheels of the roar-ing monster. The engineer says the noise of the train frightened a covey of quali the bobcat was stalking. Angered at the intrusion the animal leaped upon the tracks and flew into the face of the oncoming train. The train roared on into the night and a pathetic ball of fur and flesh remained on the tracks the sole reminder of the
